Borough Will Lose One Liquor License If Not Assigned Soon

The State Alcoholic Beverage Commission has informed Princeton Borough that, unless Collins Corporation uses its "pocket" liquor license by July 1, the license will be revoked permanently. The Borough, it seems, does not have enough population to warrant keeping this license, said Council President Marvin Reed at Monday night's Council meeting.

The Collins Corporation, developers of Palmer Square, has been holding this license since it purchased Palmer Square from Princeton University about a decade ago. The intent has been to use it in a restaurant in Hulfish North, the last piece in Collins' Palmer Square redevelopment.

"If [the restaurant] does not go in, the Borough will lose the license," said Mr. Reed. "It will be one less [liquor license] for the town. It is very important that the restaurant be under way."

At Collins Corporation, Petie Duncan confirmed that negotiations are under way with a restaurant. She sounded a positive note: "I think it will be okay. There is every hope the lease will be signed. A restaurant in a mixed-use building is a complicated affair."

The restaurant would face the plaza — which is adjacent to The Nature Company — on the north side of Hulfish Street. It would include outdoor dining.

Mr. Reed pointed out that agreements between Collins and the Regional Planning Board and Borough provided that three areas within the Palmer Square redevelopment be available for public use. "The intent was to provide an outdoor food area in good weather," he said. "It is Mayor and Council's intent to see food and beverages encouraged to use the outdoor spaces."

AN EARTHY ACTIVITY: Princeton University freshman Mike Kotin sorts through mounds of garbage at a "trash-in" held Monday afternoon in front of the University chapel. Organizers staged the event in advance of Earth Day this Sunday. They opened up several large garbage bags, collected from campus dormitories, to prove that only about 10 percent of the students are participating in the University's seven-month-old recycling program. (Bobby Chong photo, The Daily Princetonian)

Clean-Ups, Walks and Talks Set for Sunday's Earth Day

Twenty years after the first Earth Day helped focus the attention of the nation on the earth and its ecology, an anniversary celebration is being planned across the nation this Sunday and in the week to come.

Although there have been Earth Day observances in the intervening years, they were feeble affairs at best. It has taken a new generation of environmentalists joining with those of the 1970s who have never wavered in their concern for the effects of a technological society on the natural environment. The start of a new decade only 10 years from the millenium has provided additional impetus.

In Princeton, a range of activities have been planned for Sunday and for the following week as students, merchants, garden clubs, and institutions from the Public Library to the University chapel offer special programs and activities in which all can participate.

Environmental Awareness is one of the most important elements of Earth Day 1990, and cleaning up the environment is a primary objective.

Starting at 8 a.m. on Sunday, the Whole Earth Center, the Nature Company, the Princeton Earth Day Steering Committee of Princeton University, school children and adult volunteers will join in a community litter clean up along the Delaware and Raritan Canal. Volunteers will begin at the Kingston Lock off Route 27 at 8. Carol Ann McCormick, the Friends of Princeton Open Space naturalist, will speak and lead the clean-up walk along the canal. Volunteers should wear long pants and bring gloves. Refuse bags will be provided.

At 10, the location will shift to the aqueduct on Mapleton Road behind the Holiday Inn, where there will be a lecture and walk with a water resource and pollution specialist.

Sludge Burning at Sewer Plant One Step Nearer

Burning of sludge at the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority's River Road treatment plant, a controversial topic a year and a half ago, is back in the news.

The Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority is expected to award a contract on Tuesday for the construction of the sludge cake receiving facility at the River Road treatment plant. At the same time, the Authority is expected to award a contract for the installation of after burners to eliminate organic odors from the air emissions from burning sludge.

Bids had been submitted by last month's meeting, and contracts were expected to be awarded then, but it was announced at the meeting that the bid award committee needed further time to study the bids. Thus, awarding the contract was postponed for a month.

Last Monday night, Norton Bretz of Herrontown Road reported to Township Committee on the activities of the Citizens Oversight Committee set up a year ago to satisfy objections in the two Princetons to expanding the sludge burning capacity at the plant. Mr. Bretz has recently been elected chairman of that committee, which consists of 12 members and two alternates.

Mr. Bretz and David Blair are the two Township representatives, Robert Socolow and Rachael Findley are the two representatives from the Borough. In addition there are two representatives from West Windsor, Michael Rahn and Thomas Moran, and two from South Brunswick. One of the South Brunswick members has dropped out and has not been replaced, leaving George Risha as the single South Brunswick representative.

Then there are two representatives from the Princeton Environmental Commission, Peggy McNeil and Denyse Reid, and two from the Princeton Regional Health Commission, Margaret Broadwater and Annette Tobia. The two alternates, both from the Princeton Environmental Commission, are Carol Wojciechowicz and Charles Terry.

Mr. Bretz told Township Committee that the oversight group has been meeting on a monthly basis and that it has developed a set of by-

Two Seats Are Contested In School Board Election

Polls open at 4 p.m. Tuesday for the annual School Board election and budget referendum. They close at 9.

Of the four seats on the ballot, two — both in the Township — are contested. The three candidates running for these two seats are Gerald Groves, Susan Tarr and Patty Soffronoff. Robert Hillas is running unopposed for a two-year Township seat.

In the Borough, Corinne Kyle is the only candidate for a three-year term.

Voters will cast their ballots for or against the taxpayer-funded portion of the 1990-91 school budget, $20,326,917. The total school budget amounts to $24,532,078, with the difference obtained primarily

The other two public spaces, in addition to the Hulfish Street Plaza, are the Nassau Inn courtyard on Hulfish Street and the corner of Palmer Square West and Palmer Square South.

A problem that has come up during negotiations with the restaurant, said Ms. Duncan, is the need for a slightly larger floor area ratio than had been permitted. "We borrowed some of our original allotment to get Chambers Walk in Palmer Square East," she explained.

Mayor and Council passed a resolution Monday night encouraging Borough agencies to use reasonable means to facilitate the development of a restaurant serving outdoor meals. The resolution stated that Mayor and Council will not consider the additional auxiliary seating provided by a food and/or beverage establishment for outdoor service when calculating permissible square footage and floor area ratios or required parking spaces — provided that such outdoor service does not take place more than a majority of the year or over more than a majority of the outdoor space available for public uses.

The resolution also appeared to overrule a decision by a prior zoning officer by affirming that the outdoor service of meals or beverages may enhance the desirability and frequency of public activities in the Palmer Square public open spaces.

Although unwilling to name the prospective restaurant until a lease is signed, Ms. Duncan described it as one owned by an area person who already has a very fine restaurant. "It is not an out-of-town owner, not a massive chain. It is truly appropriate for the space."

She said everyone — at Collins and at the Borough — is trying to get the restaurant into place. "It is the right restaurant, and we are all working toward the deadline."

Housing Applicants

In other business, Council approved a resolution agreeing to contract with the State Department of Community Affairs and with Janet Mitchell for the interviewing and processing of applicants for the Borough's 24 units of low-, moderate- and middle income housing on Hamilton and John/Clay Streets.

The DCA will qualify low- and moderate-income purchasers for the ten units of low- and moderate-income housing included in the 24 new units. This will be done at a cost of $300 per unit, for a total charge of $3,000.

Ms. Mitchell, a Township resident, would be paid approximately $9,000 for her work in qualifying 14 middle-income applicants.

In a letter to the Borough's Community Development Department, Ms. Mitchell said she intends to contact applicants to set up an interview time and place; interview to determine eligibility; refer to mortgage lender or lenders, if prequalified; keep contact during mortgage period to move the process along; notify applicants and assign units; maintain a waiting list; report to the Borough housing board and attend meetings as required; and meet with mortgage lenders as required.

The Borough had originally contracted with Karl Light for these services. After carrying through the marketing and selection process for the more than 800 applicants to the point of notifying them of their number in the selection process, Mr. Light said he did not have sufficient personnel to fulfill his contract.

Even with paying Mr. Light for the work he performed, plus the cost of the contracts with DCA and Ms. Mitchell, Mayor Barbara Sigmund noted that this revised approach "will be a better deal for the Borough."

On Garbage Cans

Council also introduced an ordinance stating that it is the responsibility of the owner of a multiple dwelling containing four or more units to furnish outside garbage receptacles. In dwellings containing no more than three units, it is the responsibility of each occupant to furnish the receptacles.

Another ordinance introduced Monday night prohibits false alarms and establishes penalties for violations. The ordinance was prepared at the request of the Board of Fire Engineers.

According to Borough Fire Official Bill Majewski, the Fire Department has been responding to numerous false alarms over the past two years. "Many of these are to the same location," Mr. Majewski wrote in a memo to Borough Engineer Carl Peters, "either because of someone playing with the alarm system or a contractor who is working on the alarm system but fails to notify us that work is being done to the system. Some of those alarms are just because there is a problem with the system and the property owner does not have the problem corrected.

Mr. Majewski noted that, as a result of these false alarms, the response by the Fire Department is beginning to decline. "This decline could cause a serious problem in the event of a real fire."

The ordinance provides that fines begin at $50 for each false alarm over three.

Both ordinances are scheduled for a public hearing on May 8.

from State aid, use of school surplus, tuition, and federal aid.

If voters approve the budget, the 1990 school tax would be $1.59 per $100 of assessed valuation in the Borough and $1.72 per $100 of assessed valuation in the Township. Last year's school tax was $1.47 in the Borough and $1.57 in the Township.

Borough residents in Election Districts 1, 8 and 10 vote in Borough Hall. Those in Districts 2, 6 and 7 vote in the Princeton High School Cafeteria, and residents of Districts 3, 4, 5 and 9 vote at John Witherspoon Middle School.

In the Township, Election Districts 1, 4 and 7 vote at Community Park School. Johnson Park School is the polling place for Districts 2, 8, 11 and 13; Littlebrook School for Districts 5, 6, 10 and 14; and Riverside School for Districts 3, 9, and 12.

Starting Saturday, Canoes & Paddle Boats May Be Rented from Turning Basin Park

Starting Saturday, boating enthusiasts will be able to rent canoes and paddle boats at Turning Basin Park at the foot of Alexander Street.

On Monday night, Township Committee approved a lengthy agreement with Joe and Betsy Bernard of Bernard's Boat Rental in Kingston to have the canoe rental concession for a two-year period starting this weekend and extending to October 31, 1991. Mr. Bernard will pay $500 for the concession the first year, and a fee to be negotiated for the second year.

He will bring about 20 canoes on a boat trailer which he will park in a driveway leading east from Alexander Street into the Turning Basin area. The basin itself has been dredged, and a cut through the towpath has been made to allow canoe access to the D&R Canal. A new bridge spanning the cut has just been completed for the benefit of walkers and joggers.

Mr. Bernard, who has been in the boat rental business for many years, will rent canoes at $4.50 for the first hour, $3 for each additional hour. Canoe paddles and life jackets come with the canoe. Initially the concession will operate on weekends, but if there is enough demand, Mr. Bernard can also rent canoes on weekdays, according to the terms of the agreement.

Although he is permitted to operate from daylight to one half hour after sunset, he plans to arrive at 10 this Saturday. Mr. Bernard says he is looking forward to having a canoe concession in Princeton — in fact he has been looking forward to this day for five years. That's how long it has taken to get approvals from the State, including reimbursement on building the footbridge on the towpath.

Committee also introduced a revised and simplified waterway corridor ordinance, and set Monday, May 14, as the date for public hearing before final adoption. The new version will not affect current home owners living next to streams, or owners of lots next to streams on which a single family home can be built. Rather, it will affect new commercial development and subdivisions.

As explained by Planning Director Duggan Kimball, the Education Districts

In other business, the three members of Committee present on Monday night voted unanimously to adopt the ordinance setting up special education districts for the three private schools in the Township. The Hun School, Princeton Day School and Stuart Country Day School had been a conditional use in residential zones. The ordinance gives them permitted use status and establishes certain bulk and buffer standards for any future development.

Committee also introduced an ordinance which rescinds the five-ton weight limit on Ewing and Harrison Street adopted by Committee in 1988 in an attempt to keep trucks from passing through residential areas on Harrison Street. The New Jersey Department of Transportation did not approve the five-ton weight limit because the rebuilt Harrison Street bridge was required to have a 40-ton bearing capacity in order to qualify for federal funds. Thus the ordinance was invalid.

Furthermore, references to this weight limit in another ordinance allowing Township police to issue summons to trucks based on their registered weight made that ordinance unenforceable. If the five-ton weight limit on Harrison and Ewing Streets is repealed, Township police will be able to enforce truck weight limits on other roads, according to Township Attorney Edwin Schmierer. The public hearing on this measure was set for May 7.

revised waterway corridor ordinance is keyed to the site plan ordinance and eliminates the separate review and permitting procedures which an earlier version required. "There will be no additional administrative effort required," Mr Kimball told Committee.

Sludge Cake Bids

John Werth, Township representative to the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, gave Committee a brief update on activities of the SBRSA. Mr Werth said that the Authority had received bids for construction of the sludge cake receiving facility and for installation of afterburners to cut down odors in air emissions from the incinerator stacks and would probably be awarding contracts at its next meeting. The bids came in "comfortably lower" than the engineer's estimates, he said.

He also said that the Authority may undertake an additional odor remediation effort which he described as re-routing the water that results from sludge concentration efforts to a grit chamber which has a deodorizing scrubber. "Sometimes the water is not as watery as it it should be," Mr. Werth said.

He described the re-routing as a relatively inexpensive and simple matter. "If we do this I am very optimistic that the odor problem will be well in hand and that odor complaints will be the exception," Mr. Werth said. He also told Committee that the sewer moratorium will be in effect "for at least another year, possibly two." Re-rating the plant from the currently permitted ten million gallons per day to 10.8 mgd may need some additional construction, he remarked.

"Even if we are re-rated to 10.8 mgd, it is not clear whether we will be able to lift the moratorium." Mr. Werth also told Committee that the Department of Environmental Protection is "very, very strict" about minor and technical deviations of the permit. "So far the SBRSA has had relatively few fines, amounting to a thousand dollars or so, but this is a complicated plant and thus is exposed to the possibility of stiff fines, which of course will be born by the taxpayer."

This in turn raises the issue of "one person, one vote" in the membership of the Authority, Mr. Werth said.

Left-turns from Mercer Mall drive to Quaker Bridge Road Westbound (Route 533) in West Windsor and Lawrence Townships are now prohibited by the New Jersey Department of Transportation in an effort to improve safety at the intersection.

At the request of local officials, DOT's Bureau of Traffic Engineering and Safety Programs conducted a traffic investigation at the intersection, which included traffic counts and a review of the most recent accident statistics. The study revealed that left-turn accidents were over-represented at the intersection.

The decision to prohibit left-turn movement was made with the concurrence of Mercer County and local officials.

Motorists wishing to travel toward the Princeton area will be required to make a right turn at the intersection, follow trailblazer signs and pavement markings and use the cloverleaf loops at the Route 1 interchange at Quaker Bridge Road to reverse directions.

Motorists also have the option of using other alternative routes, including Route 1 northbound, I-295 and Bakers Basin Road.

Mercer Mall Management will install a large traffic information sign on Mall property explaining the revised traffic pattern.

Forty-Lot Subdivision Concept Review Set

The Planning Board will hold a concept review Thursday of the 40-lot subdivision proposed by DKM Residential Properties for the former deMenil tract off Pretty Brook Road.

The board meets at 7:30 in the meeting room of the Valley Road building. The DKM subdivision is the first item on the agenda, followed by an application by Princeton International Properties for permission to add a second floor to 360 Nassau Street and reconstruct the parking area.

The 109-acre deMenil tract is located to the north of Pretty Brook Road. It is a hilly, wooded area, which includes two ponds along the road and is bounded on the north by Woodfield Reservation and to the east by the Princeton Day School Cadle tract. The property is considered a "critical" site by the Planning Board because of the ponds and because of a triangular area which is being sought as an addition to Woodfield.

A year ago, DKM proposed a 46-lot subdivision for the tract, with almost 31 acres to be left in open space. Under that plan the triangle area would be donated to the Township, and the ponds and triangle area would be deed restricted. Approval of 46 lots would have required a zoning variance, and the application would have then gone to the Zoning Board instead of the Planning Board.

DKM sought endorsement of the plan from the Planning Board, but the board felt that several lots infringed on waterway corridors and asked that the number of lots be reduced. There was strong neighborhood opposition to the density as well.

The 40-lot subdivision conforms to the maximum number of lots allowed under the zoning, and thus falls under the jurisdiction of the Planning Board. But according to the Township Zoning Officer Peter Kneski, variances will be necessary for the minimum lot area if the developer is calling it a conventional subdivision, or from the cluster ordinance requirements if it is called a cluster development.

Planning Director Duggan A. Kimball has outlined 14 issues that the Planning Board will have to address before it makes a decision, ranging from how the critical areas are treated to how the dams creating the two ponds are maintained. Thursday's meeting is a concept review, however, and although a discussion of these

Pulitzer Prize for Biography Awarded to Great Road Resident

The phone rang last Thursday afternoon in Sebastian de Grazia's Great Road home. The caller was from Princeton University Press, publisher of Machiavelli in Hell, Dr. de Grazia's critically acclaimed biography of Machiavelli.

"Have you heard anything today?" the caller asked. "I'm the bearer of good news. You've won the Pulitzer Prize for biography."

Perhaps sensing a hesitation in Dr. de Grazia's surprised response, he continued, "And I've checked it out. You should get a telegram in an hour."

Dr. de Grazia did. He also received two days worth of phone calls and numerous visits from reporters and photographers.

Dr. de Grazia, 72, has lived in Princeton almost 35 years. For 25 of these, he was professor of political philosophy at Rutgers University's Eagleton Institute.

Born in Chicago, he received a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, taught there, and served in the OSS during World War II. He also was a visiting professor at Princeton University, served on the history faculty at the Institute for Advanced Study, and in the sixties wrote a major study, Of Time, Work and Leisure, for the Twentieth Century Fund.

His 497-page biography of Machiavelli, who was born in Florence in 1469, is written in the present tense. Machiavelli is called Niccolo throughout the book.

"All great men are referred to in this Italian style," said Dr. de Grazia, "For example, Dante, Michelangelo, Leonardo." The present tense is used, he says, because, in the book, Machiavelli is very much alive.

"A Living Partrait"

This sense of life was commented on in a review in Italy's La Republica. "Machiavelli in Hell is a living portrait of a man .... At last we see Machiavelli in the midst of his contemporaries, rather than in the midst of our more or less fixed (and prejudiced) ideas about him. Machiavelli in Hell is an extraordinary work written, as Machiavelli would say, 'divinely.' "

This is Dr. de Grazia's fifth book, but first biography. "My other books are more conceptual. Biography is a different kind of writing."

He wrote the book in his study, a short path from his hilltop house. Once a corn crib, its windows look out onto an almost unbroken vista of fields and trees. The nearby stone house, pond, and brook create the feeling of an older landscape, one perhaps as close to Italy's as can be found in Princeton.

The book's title refers to the various "hells" in which Machiavelli found himself during his life, explained the author. People said that The Prince was written with the help of Satan, and its author was condemned for a long time. When the Republican government of Florence was thrown out, Machiavelli lost his job, was put in prison, and tortured.

Sart af a Hell

"He was an outcast. He had no work, and was quite depressed," said Dr. de Grazia. "In that period he was in sort of a hell."

Dr. de Grazia pointed out that Machiavelli's advocacy of deceit and cruelty was meant for extreme times, when a nation was in danger.

He said Machiavelli wanted to tell what politics was really like; that it would be necessary to do things an ordinary person would not have to do. "And he wanted to get good people to go into politics."

Asked whether good people do go into politics, Dr. de Grazia replied, "Machiavelli's answer would be 'no.' "

In recruiting people for politics, they had to be reassured that being cruel and deceitful would not send them to hell, said Dr. de Grazia. Machiavelli told them that once the need for the art of deceit was gone, they could go back to being a good person again.

Dr. de Grazia has not become involved in politics, but one of his brothers has. "I have three remarkable brothers," he said. "One was in politics, as deputy governor of Illinois, and a second was in and out of politics." Dr. de Grazia's wife, Lucia, has been a member of the Parole Board for many years.

They have seven children between them, and seven grandchildren. Quite a few are in the Princeton area, but two sons live in Florence. One son, Mark, exports wine grown in 40 Tuscan vineyards selected by him. Another imports wine.

In the days following the announcement of the Pulitzer Prize, Dr. de Grazia was repeatedly asked whether he would celebrate with champagne.

"No," he would reply, holding a bottle of wine exported by his son, "with a bottle of traditional red Tuscan wine."

Paet and Playwright

Dr. de Grazia says it is important to note that The Prince isn't Machiavelli's only published work. He also wrote excellent plays, poetry, beautiful letters, and carnival songs. His work was especially admired by English playwrights and English republicans, said Dr. de Grazia.

Most of Dr. de Grazia's research for the book, which took about six years to complete, was done in Florence, the home of the Machiavelli archives. Some was also done at Princeton University's Firestone Library.

He likes being close to the University, Institute, and to New York City. He had lived in large cities before coming to Princeton in 1957, and at first found the town somewhat boring. But he later came to like its small town elements, which made it easier to see friends, and its proximity to a great University.

Joanna Hitchcock, executive editor of humanities at Princeton University Press, was Dr. de Grazia's editor. She began working with him on the manuscript in 1985, when her predecessor, Miriam Brokaw, left.

"He is an author who likes to collaborate with his publisher during the writing of a book," said Ms. Hitchcock. "It is a pleasure working with an author in this way, watching [the book] unfold."

The Princeton University Press has a strong list in political philosophy and history, especially Italian Renaissance history, she said. "This made Machiavelli in Hell a good fit for our list."

Ms. Hitchcock noted that the book had to meet the standards of the Press's editorial board as a work of serious contribution to the understanding of Machiavelli. But, she added, Dr. de Grazia's fine literary style brings it to readers beyond the specialist.

Among the book's early reviews was one by the late A Bartlett Giamatti.

"I was unprepared for the splendor and excellence of Machiavellil in Hell. It is engrossing, stimulating and a marvel ... I have rarely read a work of scholarship so elegantly done."

The Christian Science Monitor provided another in a list of splendid reviews. "Machiavelli in Hell is both monumental and intimate, provocative and winning ... [de Grazia's] own style is pithy, sinewy, vigorous — taut and relaxed by turns; not unlike Niccolo's. His Machiavelli is complex, brilliant, attractive, at times profound."

Since the Pulitzer Prize announcement, the Press has heard from bookstores all over the country. Machiavelli in Hell is being reprinted, and the new edition will indicate that the biography has won the Pulitzer Prize.

This is the fifth Pulitzer Prize for the Press; the last one was in 1965. It is also the second time a Princeton author published by the Press has won the award. In 1957, George Kennan won the Pulitzer Prize for History for Russia Leaves the War.

The Pulitzer Prize is accompanied by an award of $3,000, which will be presented at a luncheon in New York on May 21.

What will Dr. de Grazia do with the money. "There is a Tuscan expression," he said. "Everything goes into the soup pot. It helps make the soup better."

issues will take place, no action is expected.

Princeton International Properties, owner of the building in which the Whole Earth Center and Judy's Flower Shop is located, is applying for approval of a 1,723-square foot second floor addition to the building, primarily for office space. An approval was granted in 1981 for a larger second floor addition, but the project was not pursued, and the approval is no longer in effect.

Drainage and landscaping of the parking area are expected to be the major areas of Planning Board concern.

50 Opium Packets Found In Suburban Bus Seat

Fifty wax-paper packets containing a narcotic derivitive of opium with a street value of $2,000 were found last week on the rear seat of a Suburban Transit bus.

Township Lt. Mario Musso said that the packets probably fell out of the owner's pocket without the owner realizing it.

According to Lt. Musso, the bus driver had arrived at Princeton Shopping Center shortly before 4 Thursday afternoon from New York. As part of his customary routine, the driver checked the interior of the bus for any possible debris that passengers may have left behind. He found the packets secured with a rubber band on the seat. Lt. Musso described them as wax-paper envelopes imprinted with the words "High Power."

The packets, containing a white granular substance, were taken to Township police headquarters and then sent to a lab for analysis. They tested positive for opium alkaloids, an opium derivitive, Lt. Musso reported. Police questioned the bus driver but he could add nothing.

How common is opium in Princeton. Lt. Musso was asked. "Who knows until you arrest someone?" he replied. There were no arrests for opium, Lt. Musso said, in the Township last year.

Recovery of the opium last week, he concluded, was a first for the Township.

Two Homes Are Entered In Borough on Saturday

Two homes were entered in the Borough on Saturday, police report.

Between 1 and 4 in the afternoon, an intruder entered a Wiggins Street home, apparently without force, Capt. Thomas Michaud said, as there was no sign of a forced entry. Taken from a bedroom jewelry box were three necklaces, two bracelets, a pin and $250 cash.

A first-floor window was pried open to enter a Sergeant Street home between 10 and 11 in the evening.

Two occupants upstairs at the time heard nothing, Capt.

Bomb Hoax at PDS

The person calling Princeton Day School Thursday afternoon was precise. "The bomb goes off in 32 minutes," he said, and hung up.

A half-dozen Township police officers responded to the 2:17 call. The school was evacuated, the buildings searched but no bomb was found. Students were allowed to return after about an hour.

Police said the caller's voice was described as sounding like that of a young, teenage male.

Michaud said. He added the intruder may have been frightened off when a family relative returned home around 11.

The suspect rifled several rooms including the dining and living rooms but the only thing missing is $9 from a purse in the house.

Approximately $250 was stolen from a desk top last week in a theft in Walker Hall on the University campus.

According to Capt. Michaud, the student victim was in and out of the room briefly and several visitors were also in and out. "At some point, someone scooped up the cash which was left in plain view," Capt. Michaud said.

Police Officer Disturbed By Shoplifter's Attitude

It wasn't the amount of the item taken — after all it was recovered — it was the attitude of the young shoplifter that prompted Capt. Thomas Michaud to report the incident.

"It was so matter of fact the way the kid did it. Like a professional. Nothing to it," commented Capt. Michaud. "The way he handled himself. I'm sure this is not the first time this kid did this."

As reported by Capt. Michaud, on Saturday afternoon, a thin, white male, 12 to 13, with blonde hair, riding a BMX bicycle, entered The Sport Shop on Witherspoon Street. He browsed around, then placed a sweat suit in his gym bag and left. He was observed by a clerk who stopped him outside the store.

When confronted by the clerk, the youth removed the sweat suit from the bag, handed it over and rode off. "So matter of fact," sighed Capt. Michaud. If police find out the identity of the youth, he will be charged with shoplifting, Capt. Michaud said.

The same afternoon, two suspects were each charged with shoplifting items valued at approximately $700 from The Sport Shop.

Arrested Saturday and charged by Sgt. William Clark are Kim Simms, 26, of Albermarle Drive, Lawrence Township, and Levi Jackson, 44, of Trenton. Police have recovered five warm-up suits and a gym bag.

Capt. Michaud reported that the two suspects split up after leaving the store. Jackson was stopped in his car on Mercer Street as he was leaving town. The stolen articles were in his possession. He was later turned over to officials of Mercer County where he was wanted for other offenses.

Simms was stopped on foot in the central business district as she tried to flee. After being issued a summons, she was turned over to Middlesex County officials.

Two other stores in the area were visited last week by shoplifters.

A khaki-colored, Willis Geiger shirt, valued at $90, was stolen Friday afternoon from Gatto International Sports on Palmer Square. Police are looking for a short, black female, about 40, who entered the store and began shopping. She was looking at the shirt which was in a package on a display counter, police said. A few minutes later, the suspect left.

The package material was still on the counter but the shirt was gone.

The previous afternoon, two females and a male in their late teens or early 20s entered the Kismet Boutique on Hulfish Street and began browsing. They were in and out of fitting rooms, Capt. Michaud reported.

After they left, the remnants of a $36 strand of beads that had been on display were found in a fitting room. "Somehow, the strand was taken apart," said Capt. Michuad. Most of the beads, he said, were missing.

Two Bicycles Stolen

Two bicycles were stolen during the weekend from the university campus.

Taken overnight from the south entry of Edwards Hall was a men's 12-speed Miyata racing bike valued at $450. Police report the bike was locked to itself, wheel to frame.

Taken the following night from outside 1937 Hall is a red, 18-speed Mongoose mountain bike valued at $230. It, too, had been locked to itself and left in a bike rack. Both victims are students.

Drug Charges Follow Motor Vehicle Stops

The drivers of two cars stopped in Princeton last week for a motor vehicle violation were later charged with possession of marijuana.

Brendan Allen, 18, of Branchburg was stopped at 2 Saturday morning by Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel for failing to keep right on Bayard Lane. In Allen's jacket pocket, the officer reported finding a wooden, marijuana-type pipe and a small baggie containing trace amounts of marijuana. Allen was subsequently charged with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia and failure to keep right. He faces an April 30 hearing in Borough court.

Earlier, at 1 last Wednesday morning, Ptl. Wohlschlegel had stopped a car for making an improper turn on Elm Road. While checking the driver's credentials, the officer noted three marijuana roaches in plain view on the floor of the car. He found eight more in the purse of the driver, Caren Haas, 24, of Raritan.

Also found was a clear plastic baggie containing a small amount of marijuana, a partially-burned marijuana cigarette and some rolling papers. Issued summonses for possession of marijuana and drug paraphernalia, Haas was later released, pending her court appearance here on Monday.

STUART SCHOLARS AND FINALISTS: Thirty-one area 8th graders participated in a competition to be named Stuart Scholars for the 9th grade at Stuart Country Day School. Four of the six who were so designated are Stuart 8th graders in the front row, from left, Shelley Wollert, Jennifer Cornew, Sharon D'Mello and Liadhan O'Callaghan. Four of the seven finalists are also Stuart 8th graders and are in the back row, from left, Christine Strumpen-Darrie, Shuka Kawase, Anne Stowell and Vivia Font. Laura Fitton of Timberlane School in Pennington and Erica McDonald of Grey Nuns in Yardley were also named Stuart Scholars.

George Kovanis, 23, of Jackson Heights, New York City, has been charged with defiant trespass in the Graduate College on the University campus.

Kovanis, who had been warned in February by proctors to stay off the campus, was found late Friday night in a dorm room in the Graduate School. According to police, he had gotten into an argument and refused to leave. University proctors, summoned to the scene, signed the complaint against Kovanis which requires his appearance in Borough court on April 30.

Parked Cars Damaged By Unknown Chemical

Six parked cars, four in the Park Place yard, and two in a lot behind 362 Nassau Street, were damaged last week when someone threw a liquid on them that caused the paint to flake off. Whatever the liquid was, it blistered the paint and ate the finish through to the metal, Capt. Thomas Michaud reported.

"There was no damage report from the victims, but Capt. Michaud said, "I think we are talking thousands of dollars total."

Cars damaged in the Park Place yard were: the trunks of a 1990 Pontiac and 1985 Olds, owned by Trenton residents; the left side, fender and door of a 1988 Olds owned by an East Windsor resident, and the trunk and right rear fender of a 1987 Chevy owned by a Whitehouse Station resident.

Believed squirted a day later on Thursday were two cars owned by Hamilton Square residents parked in the Nassau Street lot. They are a 1989 Mazda (hood, left fender, door and rear quarter panel) and 1986 Honda (left door.)

Two Are Fined Monday For Drug Possession

In Borough criminal court Monday, two area residents were fined for possession of marijuana.

Wayne E. Alt, 7 Greenholm, and Corey A. Parselis, Route 518, Skillman, were each fined a total of $595 and each received a six-month conditional discharge. Both pleaded not guilty before Judge Russell W. Annich Jr.

For failure to make proper distribution of a controlled dangerous substance, Linda J. Ross, 79 Clay Street, was fined a total of $670 and sentenced to 100 hours community service.

In Township court last week, Nicholas Lombardo of Holly House was fined $225 and $30 VCCB for assault. He also received a 90-day suspended jail sentence for threatening a victim by pointing a toy pistol at him.

Frank Rizzo of Edgerstoune Road was fined $80 for speeding.

Spring Annual Plans Big Name Fashions

The 36th Spring Annual sponsored by the Association of the North Princeton Developmental Center will feature fashions from Saks Fifth Avenue in Bala Cynwyd, Pa. The fund raiser will be held Tuesday, May 1, from 10 to 3, at the multipurpose building at the NPDC in Skillman.

Jane Carton, fashion coordinator at Saks, has selected designs from leading American designers in spring and summer, evening and daywear. Blass, Hererra, de la Renta, Simpson, Roehm and other leading designers will be represented, modeled by professional models from Saks.

The show will also feature a look at past designs by American fashion houses. Daytime clothes and evening gowns from the Drexel Institute's fashion collection will be modeled and exhibited. These "costumes" from the 1950s to the 1970s will be shown in contrast to today's look.

The fashion show and luncheon has been a popular spring event in Princeton since the early 1950s. Early organizers included Sister O'Hara, wife of John O'Hara, the writer, Anne Martindale, a former U.S. Ambassador, Lucy Stretch, Nancy Kirkpatrick and many women who went on to form many of the volunteer organizations in the greater Princeton area.

The Spring Annual benefits the adult and senior citizen clients at the North Princeton Developmental Center. This year's efforts will go toward the purchase of computer for the Radcliffe Evaluation and Training Resource Center. In the past proceeds have enabled NPDC clients to participate in the Special Olympics.

They have also been used to run a summer bungalow and day camp, to build and maintain a par fitness course, to purchase buses to help transport ambulatory and non-ambulatory clients, and to provide instruction in cooking, hygiene, art, music and crafts.

Tickets to the luncheon and fashion show are $25. Checks may be made payable to the Association of NPDC, Inc. and sent to Mrs. A.B. Vincent Jr., 1 Bayard Lane, Princeton 08540. Please include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Those wishing to sit together should send their checks together.

For more information call Dorothy Plohn at 683-1488.

ORGANIZING SPRING ANNUAL: Lucinda Porter Mezey, left, and Maeryn Roebling are in charge of the Spring Annual, luncheon and fashion show to benefit the North Princeton Developmental Center. The fund-raiser on Tuesday, May 1, will also include spring shops, a garden tent and white elephant resale boutiques.

AT&T Carter Road Site May Be Up for Sale

Although AT&T's Corporate Education Center on Carter Road in Hopewell Township has been quietly promoted for sale by an area broker for the past two months, the company insists only that it is "exploring alternatives" for the 190-acre site as a result of an unsolicited offer.

The center, on Carter Road, employs about 160 people. It contains a 305-room hotel and a 77,300-square-foot training center.

According to company spokesman Harry Baumgartner, there has been a decision to explore alternatives for the Corporate Education Center, one of which is to look at the potential for selling the site. "But a firm decision on selling the property has in no way been made yet."

He said AT&T was approached by someone interested in the property, but would not identify the interested bidder.

Although Mr. Baumgartner said the offer was unsolicited, the site has been listed for sale since February 9 by Sussman Realty of Lawrenceville. A package promoting the hotel and training center was mailed out on that date.

Stefan N. Gable, Mercer County's director of economic development, said last week that he received the promotional package from broker David Agius, who asked for his help in finding a buyer for the property.

The site, which lies diagonally across Carter Road from AT&T's Engineering Research Center, houses an education center and residence hall.

Talk on Petteranello At Dorothea's House

Petteranello, Italy, is birthplace to many of Princeton's Italian residents and their ancestors. On Sunday at 5 p.m., one of its native sons, Anthony Pirone, will give a slide show and talk at Dorothea's House, 120 John Street. He will describe the town in Italy now being considered for sister city status.

Mr. Pirone, a partner in the architectural firm CUZHA, has been a Princeton resident since 1948, but his ties to Petteranello remain deeply rooted. He will explain the reasons why so many Petteranellans emmigrated to Princeton, and how they adapted to their new country. He will also give examples of how the italian language has evolved after traveling across an ocean. "Even the local dialect changed," he commented. "Many words used here are not heard there."

Much of the town has been reconstructed since an earthquake eight years ago, and Mr. Pirone will show slides of the town and its landscape before and after the quake.

The program is free and open to the public. Refreshments will be served. The last program of the season, an Italian folkdance class, will be held on Sunday, May 20.

Letter Writing Campaign Planned on Saturday

The human rights group Amnesty International will hold a Write-a-thon for Human Rights Saturday at the Arts Council building. Anyone who wishes to write a letter on behalf of a prisoner of conscience can stop by between 1 and 4:30. Information about human rights in various countries will be available, as well as information on specific prisoners and instructions for writing letters on their behalf.

The goal of the Write-a-thon is to generate hundreds of letters addressed to heads of state, government ministers, military officers, and prison wardens seeking the release of men and women detained because of their beliefs, color, sex, ethnic origin, language or religious creed, provided they have not used or advocated violence. The 1990 Write-a-thon is being sponsored by several central New Jersey Amnesty International chapters, including groups from Princeton, New Brunswick, Burlington County, Princeton Theological Seminary, and Princeton University.

Menendez Ruling: Documents Inadmissible

A Superior Court Judge in California has ruled that documents which are vital to the prosecution's murder charges against Lyle and Erik Menendez are inadmissible and must remain sealed.

Included are 17 tapes containing conversations between the brothers and Dr. L. Jerome Ozeil, a Beverly Hills psychologist, and seven pages of documents. The ruling last week by Judge James Albracht was in response to suits filed by the Los Angeles Times and Los Angeles Daily News, which had cited California open trial laws in their attempt to have the evidence made public.

Attorneys for the brothers argued that the material seized by police with search warrants was privileged between doctor and patient. Law enforcement officers had described the tapes as the key in a chain of evidence linking the brothers to the crime.

Former Princeton residents, Lyle, 22, and Erik, 19, have been charged with the shotgun slaying last August of their parents, Jose and Kitty Menendez, in their Beverly Hills mansion.

Those who are unable to come to the Arts Council building on Saturday are invited to stop by one of the informational tables that will be manned by Amnesty International members. One table will be on Witherspoon Street near the Public Library, and the other will be on Nassau Street near the kiosk in Palmer Square.

Amnesty International is an independent worldwide movement working for the international protection of human rights. A.I. works for the release of all prisoners of conscience, fair and prompt trials for all political prisoners, and an end to torture and execution or other cruel and inhumane treatment. Amnesty International won the Nobel Peace Prize for its eforts on behalf of prisoners of conscience around the world.

"Women in Workforce" Is Topic of Conference

"Women in the Workforce: Technologies for the Future," a one-day conference sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews (NCCJ), Greater Princeton Area, will take place Tuesday, at Scanticon-Princeton. Hazel Frank Gluck, former commissioner of transportation, and Lucinda Florio, New Jersey's First Lady, are co-chairs.

NCCJ is sponsoring this day of discussion and information gathering to help those employers who are implementing new policies, and to encourage those who are beginning the process of adaptation to the dynamic needs of the workplace.

The conference will feature authorities on the most important facets of women in the workforce. Rosemary Scanlon, chief economist, NY-NJ Port Authority, will present an economic forecast, Elinor Guggenheimer, president, Child Care Action Campaign, will speak about innovations for child care; Irene McEachen, vice president nursing, Beth Israel Medical Center, will discuss equal pay; Dottie Cook and Howard Ross of Cook Ross Associates will speak about attitudinal business; and Arthur Strohmer, executive director, human resource staffing and development, Merck and Company, will focus on changing employee needs.

The keynote speaker at lunch will be Judith L. Lichtman, president of the Women's Legal Defense Fund in Washington. She will address "Women, Work and the Law."

For information on registration, call the NCCJ, 921-2981.

Shakespeare Is Focus Of Special Presentation

The Public Library will present Dr. Elliot Engel in "How William Became Shakespeare," a light and enlightening look at the author most critics call the greatest writer in English. The Sunday, April 29, performance is at 2 p.m. and is open to the public.

Through anecdotes, analysis, and large doses of humor, Dr. Engel describes why Shakespeare has been able to delight audiences for over 400 years with his beautiful language and brilliant characters. Currently a professor at North Carolina State University, Dr. Engel earned his B.A. at Indiana University and his M.A. and Ph.D. as a Woodrow Wilson Fellow at UCLA, where he won the University's Outstanding Teacher award.

His articles have appeared in scholarly and popular journals, including the My Turn column in Newsweek. His costumed minilecture series entitled Keys to Bleak House ran on PBS stations throughout the country.

For more information, call the Library at 924-9529.

Library Celebration

The Public Library will celebrate National Library Week with a reception sponsored by the Friends of the Library on Sunday afternoon, April 22, at 3 p.m. The Library has chosen this day to "bring up" the new automated circulation control system, so it will be a double celebration. Members of the community who serve as volunteers at the Library will be honored at the reception.

lecture series on gender will be held this week.

Dr. John Krebs, Royal Society Professor of Zoology at Oxford University, will speak on "The Evolution of Sex Differences" on Monday, at 8.

Dr. Krebs has worked for the past 20 years on many aspects of animal behavior, including foraging strategies, territoriality and sociality, and is the author of numerous articles and a textbook on behavioral ecology. The talk, which is a Vanuxem Lecture under the aegis of the University's Public Lecture Committee, will place sex differences in behavior and appearance in the animal kingdom in an evolutionary perspective.

Dr. Krebs will discuss how the elaborate behavior and adornments associated with mating have evolved by the process of sexual selection, and explain how differences in mating habits between species might have arisen. In addition, he will explore the relevance of these ideas to some aspects of human behavior.

Dr. Gerda Lerner, professor of history at the University of Wisconsin, will present this year's last Walter E. Edge Lecture on Tuesday. Dr. Lerner, an authority on the subject of women's history, will speak on "The Feminist Re-definition of the Divine."

The recipient of eight honorary degrees and numerous awards and grants, Dr. Lerner has also written several books on the female experience, including The Majority Finds its Past: Placing Women in History, The Creation of Patriarchy, and Women Are History: A Bibliography in the History of American Women.

The lecture will focus on what she sees as a centuries-long struggle for religious equality and theological re-definition. This struggle has found expressions in the development of female "God-language" and symbolism, the re-conceptualization of the divine as both male and female and what Dr. Lerner postulates as women's direct intervention in the acts of redemption and salvation.

Both lectures will take place at 8 in the Dodds Auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School, at the corner of Prospect Avenue and Washington Road. The series is open to the public free of charge. For further information call 258-3977 or 683-5178.

NJ Transit to Increase Fares Again

New Jersey Transit's 1990 budget includes a request for fare increases averaging 10.5 percent. This would be the third consecutive year of fare hikes for the financially ailing rail and bus network.

NJ Transit is faced with a $47.8 shortfall beginning in the next fiscal year in July.

Under the proposed plan, monthly rail fares from Princeton Junction to New York would rise from $224 to $249. A one-way ticket from Princeton to New York would increase from $8 to $8.90.

The proposal recommends that some routes be cut, including the Princeton-to-Quaker Bridge Mall run. Bus riders in Mercer and eight other counties, however, would be spared fare increases under the plan, since NJ Transit officials say they fear driving riders from these lines.

The fare increases are expected to bring in $20.1 million. Another $25.8 million would be made up through "internal economics," including the firing of 200 of NJ Transit's 8,600 workers, while an additional $1.9 million would be saved by cutting routes.

Gov. Jim Florio has proposed holding the agency to the same $218.5 million subsidy it is receiving this year. Princeton resident John McGoldrick was one of several NJ Transit board members who called for a stable source of State funding, such as a dedicated tax on gasoline for NJ Transit.

"We're moving in a way that clearly over time means we will deliver less attractive service and less reliable service," said George Warrington, chief operating officer of NJ Transit.

The agency saw several years of ridership gains through the mid-80s, but has been hard hit lately. A slowdown in the economy has substantially cut into the number of passengers, officials said, and the fare increases over the last two years have also hurt.

A series of 11 public hearings on NJ Transit's proposed budget is scheduled for May 7 through May 10. A budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is expected to be adopted by late May.

Free Health Screening

The Princeton Regional Health Department will sponsor a special health screening session on Saturday, May 5, from 9 to 11 a.m. at United Jersey Bank, 370 Nassau Street. The screening will include blood pressure testing, health information and counseling, and take-home hemocult checks.

Persons wishing to be screened may do so on a walk-in basis. Prior appointments are not necessary.

Fashion Show Planned By Hun School Parents

The Parents Association of The Hun School will sponsor a "Spring Fling into Fashion" on Sunday at 11 in the Prince William Room of the Nassau Inn on Palmer Square.

The show will present men's and women's fashions supplied by Alan Royce Fine Clothing and Merrick's on Moore Street. Also included will be a Sunday brunch and door prizes

According to Sue Ranney, chairman of the event, the show will feature members of the school community modeling sports, casual and evening attire. Committee co-chairmen are Nancie Manning and Susanne Conover.

Hun School parents appearing as models include Frederick Curvy, Nancie Manning, Frank and Nancy Metzger, Fred Ranney, Marie Repko, Toni Schell, Grete Scott, Bill and Maureen Sutterlin and Joe and Marianne Young.

Also appearing as models will he trustee Ralph Mason and his wife Ellen; faculty members Bill Quirk, director of athletics; Bill Long, director of the boarding department; Patsy Kudman, director of parent and alumni affairs; and faculty spouse Keith Baicker, whose wife is director of annual giving.

Reservations are $35 per person and can be made through the school by calling 921-7600. Proceeds will benefit the school's educational programs.

Youth Services Fair

A youth services fair for students and adults sponsored by the Princeton Youth Concerns Committee of the Council of Community Services and the John Witherspoon School PTO will take place on Wednesday, April 25, at 7 in the John Witherspoon School. The program is targeted at students in the seventh through 12th grades and their parents.

Workshops offered include Summer Programs and Job Opportunities for Youth, Volunteer Opportunities for Youth, and Family and Community Health Services Available to Youth and Their Parents.

Princeton area agencies will be available to provide information on their specific programs, job openings and volunteer opportunities. Each will have a table set up for participants to mill around before and between the workshops.

For more information, call Tamara Melzer, assistant director of the Council of Community Services, at 799-6033. Pre-registration is requested but not necessary for attendance.

Childbirth Classes Set By Medical Center

The Pathways Through Parenthood series of childbirth classes at Princeton Medical Center has been scheduled for the month of May. Pre-registration is required for all tours and classes.

Stony Brook Club Plans Annual May Market

The annual May Market Plant and Garden Sale of the Stony Brook Garden Club will take place on the terrace on the Hulfish Street side of the Nassau Inn on Thursday, May 10, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. The sale of unusual plants, flowers and shrubs is a well-known event of the spring season in Princeton, as it features material which the members gather from various nurseries in North Jersey and Pennsylvania. This saves their customers the effort of having to search through many sources for specialties like fancy ivies, geraniums and hanging baskets.

One of the most popular aspects of the sale is material, both annual and perennial, from members' gardens grown especially for the event. Also available are pots of rare herbs, like garlic chives and peppermint, from the garden at Rockingham. That garden, the main civic project of the club, serve Saturday from 8 to 9:30.

The walk is open to the public and free. Novice as well as experienced birders are welcome. Participants should dress for the weather, wear waterproof shoes or boots and bring their own binoculars.

At 11 Ms. McCormick will lead a family nature walk in Mountain Lakes Nature Preserve in which participants will search for early wildflowers and flowering trees and shrubs. Woodland wildflowers are at their peak in early spring because that is the time when most sunlight penetrates to the forest floor. By late May, most trees have put out leaves, the ground below is shaded and few plants thrive.

Many wildflowers beat the shade by blooming early, making food while the sunlight reaches them, storing that food in roots or seeds, then dying back for the remainder of the summer.

Children are welcome on the family nature walk, but not pets. For more information call 683-9022.

May in Montgomery Fair Will Recall Railroad Days

This year's May in Montgomery, a popular country fair in Montgomery Township, Somerset County, is scheduled for Saturday, May 5, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Subtitled "Next Stop — Belle Mead!" events will include a tribute to the railroad and the part it played in the history of Montgomery.

Sponsored annually by the Van Harlingen Historical Society, May in Montgomery will be centered around the historic village of Belle Mead, specifically on Reading Boulevard and at the 18th-century Harlingen Reformed Church. Reading Boulevard, now the site of Scrumpy's Cider, Labaw's Hardware and Belle Mead Lumber, was already a thriving business center at the turn of the century. On May 5, it will be adorned to show some of Belle Mead's past: Case Pork Roll, now in Trenton, but which had thrived in Belle Mead until 1908, will sell snacks, and Robinson's Candies will have a booth in front of the old Belle Mead Sweets factory

At the Harlingen Church, craftsmen and women will display and sell their wares, photographs of old Belle Mead will be on exhibit, and a gourmet luncheon will he served. A self-guided historic house tour is planned, featuring a Victorian farmhouse, an 18th-century home, two small train stations, and others. Tickets to Saturday's events, $10 each, will be available at the Harlingen Reformed Church on Route 206 and Dutchtown Road.

PLANNING MAY IN MONTGOMERY DAY: Lois Waterhouse, left, and Candy Willis, both of Belle Mead, are co-chairmen of this year's May in Montgomery, scheduled for Saturday, May 5, from 10 to 4. The old fashioned country fair will salute the Reading Railroad and turn-of-the-century businesses along Reading Boulevard.

laws and several goals for itself. "We decided our primary thrust is to look after environmental and health issues," he said, "leaving the financial issues aside." The group spent its first months learning about the operation of the plant, which he described as "relatively complicated."

He said that John Gaston, SBRSA executive director, and Heidi Bode, the regulatory officer, had given the members "tutorials" on the plant operation, the proposed changes to the plant and the regulations under which it operates. He noted that the plant will be coming up for renewal of its five-year air permit from the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection next month. This will involve testing of air emissions at the incinerator smoke stacks which will set a baseline by which to evaluate emissions after the afterburners are installed.

The Authority will be developing a protocol for how the stack testing will be carried out, whether volatile chemicals and pesticides will be included in addition to hydrocarbons, for instance. The Oversight Committee will review the protocol. Mr. Bretz pointed out that the air testing sets the parameters for what is contained in the sludge as it comes to the plant and that there is a correlation between the impurities in emissions and the impurities in the sludge and in the ash that results.

He reported that the Oversight Committee has been working on coming up with a suitable definition of "domestic" sludge, believing that to have been one of the charges to the committee. "We don't want the sludge we will be taking in from outside our membership to be worse than our own," Mr. Bretz remarked. The expansion of the sludge burning facility will allow the Authority to derive additional income from burning sludge from sources other than its seven member municipalities, but it will not be accepting industrial sludge, Mr. Bretz says.

The SBRSA is occasionally invited to make visits to industrial firms to look over their pre-treatment measures. Members of the Oversight Committee were invited to come along on one of these visits, Mr. Bretz said.

The Oversight Committee has also been given access to all air, water and sludge monitoring reports that are filed with the DEP. "There have been relatively few 'excursions' or violations, and we have discussed these with the staff," he told Committee. Mr. Bretz said his group may suggest more frequent air testing.

He ended his report by saying, "I'm impressed with the quality of the staff, and with John Gaston in particular. We have our disagreements, but we can work through them."

—Barbara L. Johnson

Stony Brook Garden Club Launches New Effort

The Stony Brook Garden Club has chosen its conservation project for the celebration of Earth Day. Its members will visit stores in the Central Business District and attempt to persuade merchants to consider offering alternative choices to plastic bags.

Earth Day, also known as the National Celebration of the Outdoors, will take place Sunday.

Club members Adra Fairman of Princeton and Sue Dyckman of Hopewell said the project was a response to the question."How can we in a small way make a difference in our community?"

Almost all club members—about 50—will participate in the project, which will require that each visit several of 150 stores and restaurants.

Merchants will be asked to offer a paper altemative to plastic bags; restaurants will be requested to substitute paper products for styrofoam containers. When applicable, the possibility of selling string bags will be raised.

A letter prepared for merchants and restaurateurs by the Stony Brook Club, a member of the Garden Club of America, states that plastics make up 20 percent of solid waste in the United States and remain in the environment for centuries. It also notes that plastic production requires the use of fossil fuels and toxins, and generates toxic waste.

"We are trying to be realistic," said Mrs. Dyckman. "We realize people have an inventory of plastic bags. If we are to get anywhere we have to approach it in an understanding manner."

Mrs. Fairman added, "We are really saying, will you change when you run out of plastic bags?"

Club members expect to begin the project in the week following Earth Day.

At noon, volunteers will meet at Turning Basin Park, Alexander Road, for a lecture and walk with canal historian Gordon Keith. A ceremony with Township Mayor Kate Litvack and the Friends of Princeton Open Space is planned for 3 p.m. to celebrate the completion of new facilities at the basin — canoe rental facilities, a canoe launching dock, and a new bridge over the break in the towpath which connects the canal and the basin. Canoe rental will be available all day on Sunday.

A picnic is planned for the canal clean-up volunteers at Turning Basin Park at 1:30, with food and music provided.

"Save the Woods," a hike and litter clean-up of the Institute for Advanced Study Woods will take place from 1 to 3 sponsored by the Princeton University Outdoor Action group. Townpeople who love these woods and want to help should meet at the edge of the woods on Olden Street.

Meanwhile, the Rutgers University Outing Club will be conducting a towpath clean up in the New Brunswick area on Sunday from 1 to 3. Participants can join at any one of three access points: Landing Lane, New Brunswick; the Meadows at 1506 Easton Avenue, Franklin Township, or Five Mile Lock, Easton Avenue, Franklin Township.

Trash Troop on the Move

Trash Troop, a group of Princeton area residents brought together by the late Ann F. Townsend in an effort to combat littering and encourage recycling, will celebrate its fifth anniversary in conjunction with Earth Day's 20th. A two-week attack on litter throughout Princeton is planned.

Some 140 volunteers, including school children and university students, will patrol designated Borough and Township locations during the two weeks. These locations will include parks, streams, streets, Carnegie Lake, and school and University grounds. Maps showing the areas assigned to specific Trash Troopers and those that need to be covered will be on display at Borough and Township halls.

The map will also be available at Communiversity Day for more people to sign up for areas not already adopted. An anti-littering poster campaign was conducted through the art department of Community Park School, and the posters will be on display in schools and stores.

Trash Troopers will wear the distinctive yellow T-shirts. Several area businessmen have contributed to the purchase of these shirts, which are free to workers and poster contestants and available for a $5 donation by calling Anne Adriance at 924-3545.

At the end of the drive, on May 6, all Trash Troop participants are invited to celebrate a clean Princeton at a party to be held at the Adriance's at 729 Prospect Avenue. Volunteers are urged to bring the most interesting item they found in the trash pick-up.

Tree Plantings

There will be tree plantings at several Borough locations on Sunday as part of the Earth Day activities. Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund, Borough Council President Marvin Reed and other volunteers will meet at the Nature Company on Palmer Square, where three types of seedlings, white ash, Black Hills spruce and red maple are available to shoppers for $16. Those who make a $14 donation to the Nature Conservancy Reforestation Project will have a tree planted in the donor's name in one of the Conservancy's preserves.

The first tree planting here on Sunday will take place at 1:30 in the John Street playground at 1:30 with Borough Mayor Barbara Sigmund and Borough Council President Marvin Reed. Additional plantings are planned at 2 in the Chestnut Street playground and at 2:30 in the Erdman Avenue playground.

Walks

A number of walks have been scheduled on Sunday in honor of Earth Day.

The D&R Canal Watch, a citizens organization which is planning to produce an updated user's guide to the canal, will kick off this effort with a walk Sunday at 9. Canal Watch members will meet at the Johnson Park parking lot on the Piscataway side of Landing Lane Bridge over the Raritan River. They will walk 3.8 miles to Five Mile Lock (lock no. 12) where they will eat lunch. Drivers will be shuttled back to the Johnson Park parking lot.

The plan is to systematically survey the entire 66-mile length of the towpath in segments corresponding to access points. The user's guide will include information such as distances along the towpath, canoe launching sites, access areas, historic canal structures, camping facilities, adjacent hiking trails, scenic vistas, bike and boat rentals, and other prominent park features. Those who are interested in being a walking observer on any or all of the hikes may call Barbara Ross, 924-2683, evenings, or Barbara Thomsen, 395-0693.

The Sourland Regional Citizens Planning Council is planning a series of hikes for all ages in the Sourland Mountain Preserve on Sunday, beginning at 11 and ending at 5, rain or shine. The hikes are co-sponsored by the Somerset County Parks Commission, the Montgomery Township Recreation Department and Raritan Valley Community College.

Earth Day

Hikes will be offered for toddlers, children and adults. Three longer hikes of one and 1½ to two hours are scheduled to leave at 11, 1 and 2. Hikers will find themselves in a boulder strewn forest, with spring bird sounds and trout lilies, blood root, wood anemones, showy orchids, wild geranium and spring beauties in bloom.

Park Commission rangers, naturalists and volunteers from the citizens group will offer history, folklore and geology. Toddlers are invited on 30 minute discovery walks and scavenger hunts through fields, woods and the shores of a pond. The toddler treks will leave whenever 10 or more are present.

The hikes are free, and preregistration is not required. Comfortable clothing and sturdy sneakers or hiking boots are suggested for the longer rocky hikes. Nutritious snacks will be sold along with copies of The Sourland Legacy, describing the Sourlands special natural and historic features.

Hikers should park at the Carrier Foundation, Route 610 and East Mountain Road. "Sourland Walk" signs will point the way from Route 206 to the parking area. Free busing provided by the Montgomery Township Recreation Department will take hikers to the entrance of the Sourland Mountain Preserve where all hikes will begin and end.

For more information, call the Somerset County Parks Commission at (201) 722-1200.

TRASH IS EVERYONE'S RESPONSIBILITY: The Trash Troop welcomes all who care about the way Princeton looks. Charles Townsend, whose late wife Ann had the idea of recruiting citizens and groups to pick up litter along the roads and parks, helps other Trash Troopers load up a truck with bags for disposal.

Earth Day Run

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will celebrate Earth Day with a 10K road race, starting at 11 on Sunday. The race will start and finish at the Watershed reserve, and the course will lace through local neighborhoods, along farm pastures and with a few sloping hills.

The entry fee is $10. Cash prizes will be given to the top three men and women finishers, and T-shirts will be provided to all registrants. Race day registration will be conducted from 9:45 to 10:45. Pre-race registration forms are located on posters throughout Mercer County and at Minute Press in the Princeton Shopping Center. Participants should arrive at 10:30, and those under 18 must have a guardian present for registration.

Proceeds from the race will help support the Watershed Association's environmental programs and wildlife reserve. The Watershed Association is also planning a barbecue at noon on Sunday with live country music and country dance demonstrations. At 1, a theatrical event called "Your Mother Needs You" will be presented, featuring a 12-foot tall Mother Earth. This is an audience participation event, featuring not only Mother Earth but also a cast of Nature's creatures as well as some environmental villains.

Throughout the day, there will be "new games" featuring the giant six-foot Earth ball and conducted for adults as well as children.

The public is invited to attend all of these events, titled "Earth Day in the Country." For further information call the Watershed Association at 737-7592.

Festivals

Meanwhile, back in Princeton, the unity and diversity of the earth will be celebrated in the annual International Festival organized by international students at Princeton University. The global celebration of many cultures will be held in Dillon Gymnasium from noon to 6 under the theme "Our Common Ground."

There will be music, dance, arts, crafts, films and foods from many lands. The sponsor is the International Center at Princeton.

Towards the end of the afternoon, University students are planning an EcoFest from 5 to 8 in the U-Store courtyard. There will be music by a steel band, food and fun. Campus and community organizations will set up tables of information and literature. The EcoFest is sponsored by the Class of '91, who will treat themselves to free ice cream, and the Princeton Earth Day Steering Committee.

Another party, this one billed as a Five-College Lawn Party will take place between Alexander and Witherspoon Halls from 5:30 to 7:30. This one is sponsored by the Department of Food Services, the University Student Government and the Classes of 1992 and 1993.

Talks

The Assistant Dean of the University Chapel, William Gibson, will preach on an environmental theme Sunday morning at 11.

The Unitarian Church will hold a special Earth Day Celebration on Sunday, with music, dance, tree planting and environmental conservation displays. Church school classes will be cancelled, a single worship service will be held at 9:30, and an Earth Day vegetarian brunch will be served at 10:45.

In the evening there will be a pot-luck dinner with a singalong, beginning at 6, featuring Ben Tousley, a folksinger. Children are asked to bring a stuffed animal or dress in an animal costume to enhance the "Peaceable Kingdom" theme. The Rev. Peter H. Samsom is the interim minister.

The New Jersey State Museum will offer a free lecture Sunday at 12:30, 2 and 3:30 entitled "A Wildlife Adventure at the Tip of South America" by Karen Cummins, the Museum's curator of education. Ms. Cummins participated in a wildlife study of the Magellanic penguins of Patagonia. The lecture will include a slide and video presentation detailing the adventure.

activities designed to emphasize public awareness for environmental issues. A free seedling, complete with planting instructions, will be given to each family or group while supplies last.

Exhibits

The New Jersey State Museum has scheduled "A Gaia Event" Saturday and Sunday — named for the Greek goddess of the Earth. There will be exhibits by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection's Division of Coastal Resources, Water Resources, and Parks and Forestry. A learning center will display environmental resources such as a hazardous waste wheel and will provide information on how individuals may obtain these resources.

A free seedling, complete with planting instructions, will be given to each family or group while the supply lasts.

The Griggstown Historical Society will have an environmental education exhibit on display at the old Mule Tenders' Barracks on the causeway next to the canal in Griggstown. Hours are 1:30 to 4:30 on Sunday. There will also be a tree planting at 2 at the restored one-room schoolhouse in back of the Reformed Church on Canal Road.

Events the Following Week

Earth Day activities continue the following week.

On Tuesday, John Ernst, director of legislative affairs for the National Wildlife Federation, will speak at 7:30 in McCosh 28 on the Princeton University campus. His topic is "Can Congress Preserve Wildlife?"

On Wednesday, there will be public readings of environmental literature between 11 and 4 in the plaza in front of Firestone Library. Slides and stories of the Oregon Wilderness will be shown at 7:30 in McCosh 50 by Lou Gold, who lives six months of the year in the Siskyou Mountains.

Also on Wednesday, Pam and Gary Mount of Terhune Orchards will present a program at 8 p.m. at the Princeton Public Library. They will introduce "Big Fears, Little Risks," a 15-minute film narrated by Walter Cronkite that examines food safety issues. A panel of Mercer County farmers will discuss the film and answer questions from the audience. Cider and doughnuts will he served.

ANTI-LITTER CRUSADE. Lois Rendall and Joan Negus of the Trash Troop pick up paper and other debris along the fence at Grover Park behind the Princeton Shopping Center. More than 140 volunteers will comb the Borough and Township in the next two weeks collecting and disposing of litter.

On Thursday, Mrs. Mount will present a farm day program at 3:30 for children age 3 to 5. She will talk about life on the farm, what farmers grow and how, and what farm animals do.

On campus, Dr. Maurice Strong, president of the World Federation of U.N. Associations, will give a talk entitled "The World Environment Conference 1992" at Thursday at 8 in McCosh 50. A talk and film on "Nuclear Disarmament" will be offered by Dr. Michio Kaku of the Institute for Advanced Study in Woodrow Wilson School Bowl 6, sponsored by the Coalition for Nuclear Disarmament.

Outdoor Action will sponsor a film called "Waterworker," which follows Canadian artist and environmentalist Bill Mason on a canoe journey. The film will be shown in Lewis Thomas Hall, room 003, at 7:30 p.m.

Also on Thursday Greater Princeton Transportation Management Association will celebrate the 20th anniversary of Earth Day with a Transportation Fair from 11 to 2 in Forrestal Village food court. There will be food, prizes and special exhibits on ride sharing and mass transportation.

Friday, April 27, is Arbor Day, and there will be tree plantings on campus and probably in other locations as well.

On Saturday, April 28, there will be renewed efforts to remove litter from recrcational areas. Volunteers from a statewide program called Litter Day 1990 will again be at work along the D&R Canal, meeting at the Kingston Lock access area on Route 27 at 9 a.m. There will be refreshments and T-shirts. For information call Denise Cox, 466-4333.

In Lawrence Township, Saturday, April 28, has been designated as community clean-up day. Part of the effort will take place from 10 to 2 at the canoe launch site at the end of Cherry Tree Lane along the canal. For information call the Lawrence Township manager at 896-9400.

Saturday, April 28, is also Communiversity Day in Princeton, celebrating cooperation between the University and community. A special Earth Day section will include events for children, displays by businesses and environmental groups, and letter writing activities.

Mixed Messages on Sex Are Confusing to Teens

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The recent letters of Ms. Bonnie Parker and Ms. Susan Wilson raise the topic of sexual education in our public schools. Many of the questions voiced in these letters are the same for all concerned parents and individuals; however, there are many of us who do not agree with their answers.

Both letters ignore many of the facts that have led us to the current dilemma of dramatic increases of teenage births, sexually transmitted diseases (including HIV/AIDS), and abortions. This has occurred despite the increased funding of sex education programs, "family" planning clinics, and birth control give-away programs. Many parents and children agree with the questions that are being raised, but we do not agree with the fuzzy logic that leads to programs which have been shown to be poorly designed.

Why is it that a clear message to "say no" to drugs can he provided to our children, hut the message to stay clear of sexual activity outside of marriage is so clouded? Children are confused by the mixed messages they receive from the media, their peers, their teachers, and their parents. A clear and strong message must first start within our schools, from our churches, and from the parents.

Despite what is proposed in the letters of Ms. Wilson and Parker, there are outstanding, sophisticated programs available that teach abstinence, such as Sex Respect or Teen Aid; hoth programs thoroughly describe the psychology behind abstinence, the purposes of dating, what intimate sexual relations mean, the difference hetween love and infatuation, and describe the effect of sexual promiscuity on marriage. This is in contrast to many of the courses now proposed which are focused more on how to have sex, rather than building meaningful relationships.

The complaints of the Rutgers students cited by Ms. Wilson could only be due to: 1) the students were not exposed to adequate programs which stress abstinence, or 2) the students heard the message of abstinence, but did not like the message. But what mother would deny medicine to her child because he/she doesn't like it?

The data which have been used in the past to support non-abstinence programs have been shown to be faulty, or completely incorrect. For example, there is a pre-conceived notion that parents want early contraceptive teaching. This information comes to us from the Alan Guttmacher Institute, a group which has a vested interest in supporting early contraceptive teaching (being the research arm of Planned Parenthood).

However, independent sources have shown that the programs supported by the Guttmacher Institute and Planned Parenthood simply have not been effective; in fact, reports from Planned Parenthood in the 70's admitted this. These programs may indeed have contributed to the increase in teenage pregnancy; if these same programs are pushed into the lower grades, it is therefore likely that the numbers of teenage pregnancies, abortions, and rate of sexually transmitted diseases will climb even higher.

It is time to take a stand to help our children lead healthy lives, free from sexually transmitted diseases, unwanted pregnancies, abortion, and all the severe psychological consequences of early sexual activity. The "new" approaches being offered by Ms. Parker and Ms. Wilson are simply to pass on failed programs in shiny, slick packages, which will lead more impressionable younger children into the same chasm from which many of our teenagers cannot extricate themselves.

JAMES M. PACHENCE, Ph.D.
7 Chopin Lane, Lawrenceville

A pleasant, cheerful nurse visits me several times a week, checks blood pressure, heart rate and the like, asks what help I need, suggests changes in medicine as needed, acts as liaison to my doctor (who continues to supervise and take an interest in my care), and arranges to provide me with any equipment that may be helpful — for example, a hospital bed and air-pressure mattress pad.

Occasionally other Hospice staff perform these duties; they, too, have been friendly and non-intrusive.

The staff works with my daughter to help her with advice for my daily care. My daughter, my son, friends, grandchildren, and cats that sleep on my feet, make me feel part of the fun and busy-ness of family life.

Prescription medicines are promptly available to me from the hospital pharmacy. Additional help, which I may or may not need later, can also be provided.

It seems to me important to let patients and their families know of the existence and outstanding quality of this service.

AAUW is Thankful to Helpers on Fundraiser

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Princeton Branch of the American Association of University Women would like to thank all the wonderful people in the Princeton Community who helped make our recent fundraiser such an overwhelming success. Proceeds from the fashion show were sent to AAUW's Education Foundation which provides scholarships for women who are pursuing advanced academic degrees as well as assistance to women who are returning to school after periods of time at home.

We would also like to acknowledge the Hyatt Regency Hotel and United Jersey Bank Central, N.A. for their generous support of our endeavor. The cooperation we encountered from the community while planning our fundraiser made our volunteer efforts especially satisfying.

Trash Troopers Need Cooperation of Residents

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The yellow-shirted Trash Troopers will shortly strike again! On Earth Day (April 22), on Arbor Day (April 27) and un Communiversity Day (April 28).

The Trash Troops were founded in 1985 by my late sister-in-law, Ann (Mrs. Charles C.) Townsend, who got fed up with the trash that unthinking drivers and walkers dump on our roadsides, streams, canal and parks. The current chair is the active and dedicated Anne (Mrs. George J.) Adriance, backed by many Princetonians who are outraged at the fouling of our nest.

The game will be afoot shortly. Trash Troopers of all ages (small Littlebrook School students, for instance, have staked out Grover Park behind the Princeton Shopping Center) will fan out to clean up the unbelievable amount of trash that sores our eyes.

Although the "sweep" will be over two April weekends, the job is, unfortunately, endless. Trash Troopers have volunteered to monitor designated streets, streams, parks, etc., throughout the year, but they need residents' help. For instance, the plastic tubes that newspapers are delivered in are perfect for cleaning up the stuff left on private property.

The Trash Troopers are a visible solution but the problem is one that all Princetonians can take pride in solving. We love Princeton. Please do your part.

Hospice Program Offers Outstanding Home Care

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Thank you for the opportunity to talk to your readers about the excellence of the Hospice Program.

Last summer my illness was diagnosed as terminal; at that time I chose to stay at home and manage my own care with the help of friends and members of my family. As my condition deteriorated and my activity became limited to the extent that I needed help with routine care, such as medication and washing and dressing, I moved to my daughter's house and became acquainted with the service, or I should say "the many services," provided by Hospice.

The U-Store Offers the Best in Travel Journals:

When Summer's In The Meadow.
Niall Williams and Christine Breen. Farrar, Strauss & Giroux, paperbound, $9.95.

This is the sequel to O Come Ye Back to Ireland, which was the warm and tender account of the young couple's striking out for their ancenstral Ireland in search of a pastoral life. When Summer's In The Meadow takes up their story after that first year, as they learn that they cannot have what they most wanted: a family. They add themselves to the list for adoptions and wait through the long and trying process, until at last a baby comes to them. By turns humorous and moving, this is a rare true story of two people reclaiming a heritage and finding their future.

Many Natural Products At Whole Earth Center

"The consciousness about natural foods sets us apart from any retail store," explains Jim Allington, manager of The Whole Earth Center at 360 Nassau Street. "The products we offer are environmentally safe and offer alternatives to other products in the mainstream that do not have these advantages. Time and effort goes into researching these products and our willingness to do this and to give out information about it makes the Whole Earth special. We try to offer people alternatives."

Established in October 1970, seven months after the original Earth Day, the Whole Earth Center is a nonprofit retail organization offering a wide variety of natural food, health care products and cosmetics, pet products and books on the environment, health and nutrition, as well as a deli and bakery.

"The original money for the store came from individual donations," notes board member Bobbi Parmet, "and the first Earth Day was a springboard for the donations. People were ready to give money for an environmental center. Those who were involved in the Whole Earth Center were politically and environmentally aware."

Adds board member Susy Waterman, "One of the major things we wanted to do was to have a place that was a center for information. We had books right away, and we also had a bulletin board where people could put up pertinent information."

Operated by a non-salaried five-member board, two paid managers (Jim Allington and Kathy Corrado) and a paid staff of 20, the Whole Earth has no one owner. "We're not a co-op," reports Ms. Parmet, one of the original board members. "No one owns stock. There are no personal salaries to board members, but we do get to make decisions."

"In a way, my salary is being able to do things we couldn't afford to do individually," observes Mrs. Waterman. "For example, when we have profits, the board meets to decide how to use them. The staff is also involved in these decisions."

THE NATURAL WAY: "There were really no natural food stores when we opened in 1970. Just health food stores. The idea behind the Whole Earth Center was having food without chemical additives or preservatives and having food in bulk so there was no excess packaging." Board member Susy Waterman, manager Jim Allington, and board member Bobbi Parmet are getting ready for the Whole Earth's participation in the upcoming Earth Day celebration.

Profits Benefit Others

With recent profits, the Whole Earth has funded a children's theater piece, Digging the Whole, which has been performed in schools throughout New Jersey. In addition, seed money has been given for a feature film on toxic waste, and funds to the public library to buy books on the environment, health and nutrition. Contributions have also been made to Turning Basin Park in Princeton Township and toward the planting of trees in Trenton, as well as to other projects.

The Whole Earth has planned an active involvement in the Sunday Earth Day observances, reports Mrs. Waterman. "We've put together a brochure listing all the activities for Earth Day — what's happening at the Library, the University, Terhune's Orchards, Stony Brook Millstone Watershed, etc. This is available to anyone who comes in the store.

"We're also planning a clean-up of the Delaware and Raritan Canal, the segment from Kingston to Alexander Road, on Sunday. Groups of people will be cleaning up the shore and the water. At 8 a.m. we'll meet at the Kingston Lock. At 10, we'll go to the aqueduct behind the Holiday Inn on Route 1, and at 12 we'll be at Alexander Road. We plan to have speakers at each location."

Mrs. Waterman notes that at 1:30, a picnic will be held for the clean-up crews at the Turning Basin Park. A special Whole Earth-Earth Day birthday cake will be included. Those interested in joining the clean-up can call The Whole Earth at 924-7377. She advises that participants wear long pants and bring along a rake or other tools.

Customers of all ages have flocked to the Whole Earth since its opening in 1970. It seems to have something to appeal to everyone, whether it's sandwiches or salads from the take-out deli, freshly baked oatmeal bread or carrot cake from the bakery or the tremendous variety of bulk foods.

"Bulk foods, grains, herbs and flour, as well as the honeys have always been very popular. Also, the nuts and seeds," reports Mrs. Waterman. "These bulk foods emphasize the least packaging," add Ms. Parmet, "and we always encourage people to bring in their own bags. We charge a nickel if they use one of our bags. It's a donation toward planting trees on Arbor Day. We also sell canvas tote bags with the Whole Earth logo and string bags."

Unusual Items

An extensive frozen section includes such unusual items as goat's milk, fertile eggs (from free range chickens), ice cream alternatives (Rice Dream and Ice Bean), as well as a selection of yogurt, whole wheat pizzas and pot pies.

"We also have macrobiotic foods and cookware," notes Mr. Allington. Our purpose is to make these foods available for people with special dietary interests." The Whole Earth has also expanded its selection of organic produce, which is growing in popularity, says Mrs. Waterman. The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association has a sustainable agriculture program," she notes. "We buy our eggs from them and hope to buy produce, as well."

Homeopathic remedies (based on herbal combinations) for allergies, indigestion and other complaints are also available. No prescribing is ever done, however.

Soaps, shampoos, toothpaste, cosmetics and skin care items are also offered, as is a number of pet products, including cat and dog food, special cat litter and herbal flea collars.

The Whole Earth also carries a selection of cleaning products including detergents and dishwashing liquids, etc., and none of the items offered has been tested on animals.

Prices cover a range at the store with muffins at 85 cents, whole wheat bread $1.90 a loaf, carrot cake $2.85 a pound, sandwiches $3 to $3.50, and soup $1 and up. Organic baby foods are 79 cents a jar, fertile eggs $2.10 a dozen and goat's milk $4.13 per gallon. Freshly ground peanut butter is $1.42 a pound, brown rice flour 91 cents a pound and alfalfa honey $1.10 a pound.

Customers coming to the Whole Earth can count on personal attention and help. "I really enjoy finding the products and helping someone who has a particular need," says Mr. Allington. "People sometimes come in and are not really familiar with things here, and we like to introduce them to what we have. At first, they often don't have the information for cooking the product. We like to give cooking tips.

"That's really my kick," he adds, "introducing new people to our products!"

The Whole Earth Center is open Monday through Friday 10 to 7, and Saturday 10 to 6. The deli is open Monday through Saturday 10 to 3.

Restoration and Repair By Princeton Marble Inc.

Whether it's inside or outside, Mark S. Hurler, owner of Princeton Marble & Stone Care, Inc., can fix it! He specializes in marble and stone cleaning, restoration and maintenance for both residential and commercial structures.

"This is very specialized work, and I want to educate people as to what is involved. Many times, people think because something is marble or granite, it will last forever. But it doesn't. It's porous, and if it isn't sealed properly, it will absorb dirt, soot and acid rain.

"Also, a marble floor can get scratched and worn over the years," he continues, "and polishing, grinding and honing can bring it up to its own natural luster and brilliance. People are really astonished when they see the results. It's very satisfying to work on marble and to see the job done right. The finished piece is really art. The work is truly artistic and creative."

Mr. Hurler's interior work includes floors, walls, bathrooms, fireplaces, counters, vanities, tabletops, lobbies and foyers. Outside, he works on brick and stone walls, steps, sidewalks, pool sites and patios, as well as statues and gravestones. He also does graffiti removal.

BETTER THAN NEW: "I always wanted to start my own business, but I was looking for something different, something that would give me satisfaction with each job. There is real personal involvement working with beautiful marble." Mark S. Hurler, owner of Princeton Marble & Stone Care, Inc., looks forward to introducing customers to his special techniques of marble and stone restoration and repair.

"I'll do pressure washing, repointing and recaulking of stone and brick, if it's needed," he reports, "but I don't do new installations or masonry work. It's strictly repair and restoration. Most exteriors need a good cleaning, pressure washing and a good sealer.

"There's a lot of variety with the work," he adds. "I never get bored. I could be working on a gravestone for one job and a beautiful marble floor on another. I get to meet all kinds of people and help them learn about maintenance and repair."

Sense of History

A sense of history is often involved with the gravestones, he adds. As time and the elements erode the stones, names and dates become illegible. With a good cleaning, repolishing and a sealer, he says, the stones can be restored.

A native of Elizabeth, Mr. Hurler had worked for Hess Oil for several years and for a stone and marble restoration company before starting his own business two months ago. "I've always been handy," he explains, and I felt this was an up and coming field. I saw a definite need for this work. The potential is really there for this type of restoration, and I definitely like working for myself. I like the personal control and the sense of satisfaction. I'm responsible for my own actions. People can count on me to do what I say.

"I'm clean cut and youthful," he adds with a smile. "I'm not out to sell someone something he or she doesn't need. I want to do the best job I can because my reputation is at stake."

Enlightening and informing customers about care and maintenance is an important part of his job, too, he believes. "This is really an education on the part of the home or business owner. It's much more complex than people realize. If people learn what is necessary and understand the beauty and history of the marble, for example, they can appreciate the costs involved in keeping something beautiful and in good condition.

"There is a need for continued maintenance and care," he explains. "In six months or a year, a floor could need polishing again. This is strictly tailored by what type of use it is getting. For example, the lobby of a bank gets much more wear and tear than a house."

Mr. Hurler is already encouraged by the number of jobs he has had in the short time his business has been open. Fully licensed, he has taken work all over New Jersey but tries to concentrate on Mercer, Middlesex and Somerset counties. "The word of mouth has been very helpful," he notes, "and sometimes one job will lead to another at the same place. A marble floor can lead to exterior work, for instance."

Sees Job Through

Since his business is small, he adds that customers can count on one person seeing the job through from start to finish. "There are advantages in not being too big," he comments. "We really pay attention to the customers' needs and offer personalized service. If, in time, the business grows, anyone working here will have to be conscientious and have an eye for quality. First and foremost, I stand behind my work and satisfaction is guaranteed."

Prices cover a wide range depending on the size and complexity of the work. "Each job is different," he explains, "and I always come out to assess the job in the beginning. Just cleaning and sealing a gravestone could be $50 to $75. A marble mantelpiece could be $100 and a floor $200 to $300 for a day's work, but many jobs take longer. It really varies.

"It's very exciting to start a new venture," he adds. "There's always the unknown. It's really an adventure!"

Mr. Hurler's hours are generally 8 to 5, but it depends on the type of jobs, and he offers flexible hours to accommodate customers' needs. Princeton Stone & Marble Care, Inc. can be reached any time at 201-281-9111. All calls will be returned within 24 hours.

McCarter Associate Plans to Step Down

Robert Lanchester, the actor and director who has served as associate artistic director at McCarter Theatre since 1979, will depart at the end of the current season. The announcement was made Monday by Ruth Wilson, president of the McCarter board of trustees.

Mr Lanchester served as associate director throughout the tenure of Nagle Jackson, artistic director, who announced in early January, 1989, that he would be leaving McCarter at the end of the 1989-90 drama season. Emily Mann, a playwright and director, has since been appointed artistic director and expects to begin work here full time in July.

In making the announcement, Mrs. Wilson said, "I want to express my deep appreciation for the contributions Rob Lanchester has made to both McCarter Theatre and the Princeton community. A change in leadership brings new direction to an institution and most often this is reflected in staff changes as well. The role of associate artistic director will be different under Ms. Mann's leadership."

Mr. Lanchester directed A Christmas Carol and also played the role of Scrooge for several years. He also directed Dark Sonnets of the Lady, The Miss Firecracker Contest, As You Like It, Under Milkwood and The Day They Shot John Lennon. His Stage Two credits include Putting on the Dog, The Overland Rooms, Debut.... and Judevine: A Vermont Anthology.

His primary responsibility at the theater has been overseeing the literary management and outreach programming departments. He created three assembly programs and supervised the workshop and residency programs in New Jersey schools and the McCarter Training Wing programs.

One of Mr. Lanchester's particular contributions to McCarter has been his involvement in the annual Shakespeare Summer production for teenagers. The four week program features classes in acting, voice, movement, combat, makeup, speech and verse. Past productions have included Two Gentlemen of Verona, The Merchant of Venice and Much Ado About Nothing. This summer he will be directing A Mildsummer's Night's Dream.

Women's Film Series Continues on Campus

"Both Sides of the Camera: Women and Film" will continue on Thursday with two presentations by Gretchen Elsner-Sommer, artistic director Women in the Director's Chair, an international video and film festival organization.

Beginning at noon in 201 Aaron Burr Hall, Ms. Elsner-Sommer will present a brown bag seminar: "Designing and Organizing Women's Film Festivals." At 7:30 p.m. in the Film Theatre, 185 Nassau Street, four short independent women's films will be shown as part of "Women in the Director's Chair: An Evening Of International Women's Films."

They are: Syntagma, from Austria, 1986, a film that creates a language of images which releases women's bodies from historical restrictions of female representation; Serve the Fish, by an American (Renee Sabath, 1989), an imaginative student piece which represents a hard working modern woman tolling between the demands of school and work.

Also, Juxta, by a Japanese American, a manipulation of narrative, documentary and reenactment styles which explores the deep and complex psychological effects of racism on the children of Japanese women and American servicemen; and I'm British But..., by a British woman, 1989, a satirical comment of the exclusionary attitudes meted out to children of Asian immigrants by white British society.

Admission is free and open to the public. For further information call Rene Shepperd at 258-5565.

EARTHWORKS FOR EARTH DAY: Martita Goshen's dance troupe Earthworks will perform "Elephant Hearts" Friday at 8 in the dance studio at 185 Nassau Street. Ms. Goshen's dances celebrate wildlife all over the world, and this evening's presentation draws on research indicating that elephants communicate through ultrasound and have complex ritualized social relationships.

George Street Playhouse stage in William Gibson's poignant comedy, Handy Dandy, opening Friday at 8.

This two-character play matches an aging anti-war activist nun against a conservative judge over the right to protest nuclear arms. Mr. Whitmore and Ms. Lindley, both veterans of stage, film and television, return to GSP following their acclaimed performances in last season's world premiere, The Eighties.

Ms. Lindley, who has performed in such stage classics as Death of a Salesman and Long Day's Journey into Night, is perhaps best known for her television roles as Liz Mathews on Another World and Mrs. Roper on Three's Company, while Mr. Whitmore, winner of the Tony Award for his work in Command Decision, is best known for his one-man shows, Will Rogers, USA, and Bully, in addition to his long list of movie credits.

Tony Giordano, former associate artistic director of Circle Rep, is directing. The set designer is Deborah Jasien, Barbara Forbes is in charge of costumes and Donald Holder lights.

Running through May 13, performance times for Handy Dandy are Tuesday through Saturday evenings at 8 with Sunday matinees at 2. Tickets range from $16 to $25.

For further information, or ticket reservations, call Ticket Central at (201) 246-7469.

"You're a Good Man" At Artists Showcase

The 40th birthday of the Charles Schulz "Peanuts" cartoon characters will be celebrated with a production of the musical You're a Good Man Charlie Brown, at Artists Showcase Theatre in Trenton.

The show, written by Charles Gesner, opens a two-weekend run on Saturday at 8.

The production features Barbara Dyett of Lawrence as Lucy and John Anastasio of Trenton as Linus. The pair appeared in the original production of the show at Artists Showcase in 1974. The title role will be played by Brian Watkinson of Princeton who played the role of Jesus in a summer-stock production of Godspell. Tom Moffit of Trenton appears as Snoopy, Claudia Berry of Princeton plays Patty and Edwin Watkinson of Lawrence is Schroeder.

The production is under the direction of Gerald E. Guarnieri and the musical numbers are being staged by Ms. Dyett. Paul Sulyok is the musical director and accompanist with Frani Cappucio as percussionist. Lighting is by Brenda Pakoszdi and the stage manager is Christine Becker.

The musical will also run Friday and Saturday evenings April 27 and 28 at 8 and on Sunday, April 29, at 3. The admission is $9. Reservations may be made by calling 695-1955. Tickets may also be purchased at the door, half-hour before performances.

'Charlotte's Web' Set By Children's Theatre

White's Charlotte's Web will be performed by Mercer Children's Theater on Saturday, April 28, at 2, 4, and 7 p.m., and Sunday, April 29, at 2 and 4 in Kelsey Theater on the West Windsor campus of Mercer County Community College. Tickets are $5.

The Children's Literature Association named Charlotte's Web the best American children's book of the past 200 years. The story centers around a runt pig named Wilbur and his battle to avoid the butcher. Wilbur befriends a spider named Charlotte, who saves the pig's life by writing in her web praises like "Some Pig."

Jeff Davis of Hopewell will portray Wilbur the pig, Nancy Atkins of Yardley, Pa., will be Charlotte, and Danielle Lynn Wrobel of Ewing will play Fern, the girl who loves and cares for Wilbur.

For more information or to order tickets by phone, call 586-4695. MasterCard and Visa are accepted.

'Born Yesterday' Offered By Franklin Villagers

The Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre will present Garson Kanin's comedy, Born Yesterday, on weekends from April 20 through May 13. One of the longest running comedies in Broadway history, Born Yesterday is often remembered for Judy Holiday's exceptional performance in the role of Billie Dawn. A recent Broadway revival starred Ed Asner and Madeline Kahn.

The Villagers production features Mark Kachersky as the vulgar, egotistic junkman Harry Brock, and Jeanette Pepino as the native ex-chorus girl Billie Dawn, his live-in girlfriend. Brock has traveled to post-World War II Washington to make some shady deals with Senator Hedges (Arthur Annis), a vulnerable, has-been politician.

Brock's entourage includes his cousin Eddie (Kevin 'J. Gray), and his lawyer, Devery (Herbert McAneny), an ex-assistant attorney general whose affinity for liquor led to his fall from political grace. In an effort to both refine Billie's rough edges and get her out of his hair, Brock hires Paul Verrall (Roy Feigenbaum), an idealistic and inquisitive young magazine reporter, to educate her and familiarize her with Washington. From Paul, Billie learns a lot about history, politics and Brock's crooked dealings, and demonstrates her newly acquired know-how by turning the tables on him.

The cast also features Stacy Bain as the hotel maid, Daniel Pannucci as the hotel assistant manager, Michael Paternoster as the bellhop and Sally Weller as Mrs. Hedges, the Senator's wife. The cast is under the direction of Nick Procaccino, founder and artistic director of Stage One Productions, a professional summer theatre operating out of Rider College. The design staff includes set designer Bradley Kaye, costume designer Camille Cusimano and lighting designer Tom Rowe.

Born Yesterday will open on Friday, April 20, at 8:30. Performances will continue through May 13 on Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30; Sundays, April 22 and May 6, at 7:30; and Sundays, April 29 and May 13, at 2. Tickets are $11 on Fridays and Saturdays and $9 on Sundays. Students and seniors receive $2 off on Fridays and Sundays.

LIMBERING UP FOR TRIANGLE SHOW: Darrell Capwell '90, Temple Gill '93 and Sara Larson '92 rehearse for the Triangle Club production of "Easy Street." Directed by Milton Lyon with choreography by John Watson Stewart, this year's production will open Thursday, April 26, at 7:30 at McCarter Theatre. There will be shows Friday and Saturday at 8, Sunday at 7:30, and again in June during Reunions weekend. Tickets are available at the McCarter box office.

Cellist Is Named Guest Artist by School

Dr Alexander J. Swistel and Dr Daniel G Swistel of New York City, formerly of Princeton, have established an endowment fund for the Music Department of The Lawrenceville School.

The gift is to fund an annual event at the school to promote among students a greater appreciation of the performing arts. The artist will spend several days on campus getting to know students, performing informally several times daily, and giving a major performance at the end of the visit.

The Swistel brothers have given the fund in memory of their parents, George and Irene Swistel of Princeton. Alexander Swistel was a member of the Class of 1967 at Lawrenceville and Daniel Swistel of the Class of 1971. Both were very active in the music program while at the School.

The first artist selected by John A. Ellis, chairman of the Music Department at Lawrenceville, is Michelle Djokic, Affiliate Artist cellist. Ms. Djokic is the youngest in a musical family from New Hope. Her brother, Pierre Djokic, also a concert cellist, graduated from Lawrenceville in 1975.

Awarded the Prince Bernard Award for Excellence at the 1989 Scheveningen International Cello Competitions and awards. In 1980, she was winner of the People's Prize at the Pablo Casals International Cello Competition in Budapest, Hungary.

She made her debut with the Philadelphia Orchestra at age 13, and has also been a guest soloist with many orchestras.

Ms. Djokic is currently the cellist of the newly created Wakefield Trio. She frequently appears in solo recital throughout the country and as guest soloist with many chamber ensembles.

Beethoven Mass Set By PU Choral Groups

The combined Princeton University Glee Club and the Princeton University Chapel Choir with a chorus gathered from the Princeton community will present performances of the Beethoven Missa Solemnis on Friday and Sunday evenings, April 27 and 29 at 8 in Richardson Auditorium. The chorus of 100 voices, an orchestra of 50 players and a solo quartet will be directed by Prof. Walter Nollner.

According to Prof. Nollner, the work presents "formidable difficulties," especially for chorus, and as a result the chorus has been preparing the piece since November. The concert master will be Russell Hoffman, who teaches violin in the Princeton Regional Schools.

The vocal quartet will feature two singers who attended Princeton and sang under Prof. Nollner. They are soprano Andrea Matthews, Class of 1978, who will join the Aachen, Germany, opera in August; bass John Bogart '68, who has sung in many of the leading opera houses in Europe; tenor Andrew Zimmerman, who has sung oratorio and opera throughout the United States, and mezzo Rebecca Russell, a winner of recent Metropolitan Opera auditions and a member of the Spoleto Festival company for the past seven years.

For tickets call 258-3048 Thursday morning. Starting Friday, tickets are available by calling the Richardson box office, 258-5000.

Barbershop Singers Schedule Annual Show

The Garden Statesmen Chorus of the Princeton Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will present their annual show Friday at 8 and again on Saturday at 8 at Notre Dame High School.

The members of the chorus, aided by several member quartets and a visiting quartet known as "Stage Fright" will provide musical entertainment filled with barbershop harmony. Admission will be $7 Friday ($5 for senior citizens and students) and $9 on Saturday.

A portion of the net proceeds will be donated to the Institute of Logopedics in Witchita, Kan., which provides therapy to children and adults suffering from speech and hearing defects. The common goal of the Institute and the barbershop singers is expressed in the Society's theme song, "We Sing That They Shall Speak."

For tickets or information call 924-0565 or 392-7611.

War Memorial Concert By Trenton Orchestra

The Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Kurt Klippstatter, will give a concert Sunday, April 29, at 7 at the War Memorial auditorium in Trenton.

The program will include music of Bellini, Verdi, Puccini, Rossini, Mascagni, Leoncavallo, Tosti and de Curtis. The soloist will be Enrico di Giuseppe, tenor.

Tickets are $8 to $30. For information call 394-1388. Tickets may also be purchased at the box office on the day of the performance.

Two Guest Soloists With PU Jazz Ensembles

The Princeton University Jazz Ensembles will celebrate its 15th anniversary by featuring jazz masters Terence Blanchard and Benny Carter as guest soloists with the big bands on Saturday, May 5. The concert will begin at 8:30 in Benny Carter is a legendary figure in the history of jazz. His career as an alto saxophonist, trumpeter, arranger, and composer began in the 1920s and included stints with the bands of Fletcher Henderson and Duke Ellington. Mr. Carter has received an honorary doctorate from Princeton, served as a visiting professor, and has appeared as a guest soloist with the University jazz ensembles in 1977 and 1979.

Terence Blanchard is an internationally renowned trumpeter/composer and Columbia recording artist. He has performed with Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers (his recording credits include the Grammy Award-Winning album, New York Scene) and has co-led the Donald Harrison/Terence Blanchard Quintet.

Since its inception in 1974, the Princeton University Jazz Ensemble (PUJE) has experienced remarkable growth in participation and quality of musicianship. Originally comprised of one 18-piece ensemble, it now features two 18-piece big bands and two smaller combos whose membership is made up entirely of non-music majors. These groups perform a wide repertoire representing the different stylistic periods in the evolution of jazz.

Tony Bennett to Perform In State Theatre Concert

Tony Bennett will perform in the State Theatre in New Brunswick on Monday, April 30, at 8 at a benefit for the George Street Playhouse and the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Considered one of the greatest pop singers of all time, Tony Bennett has been pleasing audiences with such hits as "Because of You," "Just In Time," "Stranger in Paradise," and his signature song, "I Left My Heart in San Francisco," for more than 30 years.

At this year's benefit, GSP will also present the second annual Thomas H. Kean Arts Advocacy Award. Established last year to honor an individual or company each year for support of the arts, this year's award will go to AT&T.

———

Originally from Astoria, Queens, Mr. Bennett has produced 90 albums, his most recent being Bennett/Berlin, which pays tribute to the great American composer Irving Berlin. Mr. Bennett, who spends much of each year performing for audiences throughout the world, has received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Academy of Popular Music.

Tickets range from $15 to $250. Tickets at $250 include a black-tie pre-performance dinner at New Brunswick's Hyatt Regency at 5 p.m. For further information, or to arrange for a corporate table, call Marilyn Powel at (201) 846-2895.

Tickets for the performance only are available for $35, $25 and $15, and may be ordered by calling Ticket Central at (201) 246-7469. The State Theatre is located at 15 Livingston Avenue in downtown New Brunswick. All proceeds from this benefit go to George Street Playhouse and the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

All-Female Program By Violinist, Pianist

The Friends of Music at Princeton will present violinist Ruth Ehrlich accompanied by pianist Marcia Eckert in recital Thursday, April 26, at 8 in Taplin Auditorium in Fine Hall on the Princeton University campus. The program will consist of works by women composers from the 19th and 20th centuries.

From 1980 to 1987, Ruth Ehrlich was the first violinist of the Fairfield Quartet, based in London, England. For the past year, she has lived in Princeton, playing professionally in New York City with various chamber orchestras and ensembles.

Ms. Eckert, a resident of New York City, has been active for several years as a piano soloist and accompanist. She has travelled throughout the United States presenting a lecture-recital on the First Piano Sonata of Charles Ives. As a chamber pianist, she has played in Alice Tully Hall, Carnegie Recital Hall, and at the Mostly Mozart Festival.

The duo has given a number of recitals of music by women composers, most recently at Hunter College and Villanova University.

WOMEN MAKING MUSIC: Ruth Ehrlich, violinist, left, and Marcia Eckert, pianist, have planned a recital program featuring women composers of the 19th and 20th century which they will play Thursday, April 26, at 8 in Taplin Auditorium. The program is free and sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton.

The program will begin with Deux Morceaux by Lili Boulanger, the first woman to win the Prix de Rome. The program continues with Colloquy by the 20th-century, Scottish composer Thea Musgrave. Next the duo will play Three Romances, Opus 22 by Clara Schumann, whose compositional style was similar to that of her husband's. After intermission, the duo will play Sonatine by Germaine Tailleferre, the only female member of "Les Six," the famous group of French composers active in Paris during the 1920s and '30s.

The program concludes with Sonata in A Minor, Opus 34 by Amy Beach. In her day, Mrs. H.H.A. Beach was acclaimed as one of this country's leading composers; her works were regularly performed by major American orchestras.

The public is invited to attend without charge. Taplin Auditorium is located in Fine Hall across from Fine Tower, at the corner of Ivy Lane and Washington Road. For further information, call 258-4239.

Kindermusik Open House Set at Westminster

Westminster Conservatory of Music, the community music school of Westminster Choir College, will hold a Kindermusik Open House Saturday, April 28, at 10.

Kindermusik Beginnings, Pre-Kindermusik and Kindermusik for the Young Child are classes designed to nurture the musical development of the very young child, 18 months through 3 years of age; and continues with a program of music learning and enjoyment for children 3½ to 7 years of age. Classes are offered in Princeton, Mercerville and Bridgewater.

Program coordinators and teachers will be available to answer questions. The Open House is for parents and caregivers only. For more information about fall registration call the Conservatory main office at 921-7104.

Guitar Trio Will Perform At Rider College April 20

The De Falla Guitar Trio will perform at Rider College on Friday at 8 in the Student Center Fireside Lounge.

The three musicians who make up the trio, Terry Graves, Kenton Youngstrom and Dusan Bogdanovic, have received recognition for their performances of classical and jazz music, and for their innovative programming, ranging from Bach to Bernstein to Blues.

Since 1979 the trio has been creating, performing and refining music for three guitars in a style uniquely its own. It was the first ensemble of its kind to win a prize in the Concert Artists Guild Competition and made its New York recital debut at Merkin Concert Hall in 1984.

Music from USSR, USA In State Theater Concert

The Brunswick Symphony Orchestra will present a special "glasnost" concert, "Partners in Music and Peace," on Sunday at 3 at the State Theater, New Brunswick.

The program will feature Aaron Copland's Lincoln Portrait with speaker Leonard Bethel as narrator and dances from Leonard Bernstein's On the Town score. The Russian works will be Stravinsky's ballet suite from The Firebird and Tchaikovsky's Violin Concerto. Peter Winograd, violinist and winner of the Naumberg competition, will be guest soloist. Raymond Wojcik will conduct.

Tickets and additional information may be obtained by calling 246-7469. General admission is $12 per ticket.

Register to Donate Blood

The Princeton Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, in an effort to increase the community blood-donor base, will register blood donors in Palmer Square on Wednesday, April 25, and Thursday, April 26, from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Most healthy individuals between the ages of 17 and 65 are eligible to donate blood. Donating blood takes about an hour, and individuals can donate as often as once every eight weeks. The Princeton Medical Center's donor room is open Monday through Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., Friday from 8:30 to 4, and Saturday from 10 to 12.

With additional blood donors, the hospital, which is about 90 percent self-sufficient for blood needs, could become totally self-sufficient.

ART

Major Exhibition Due At Firestone Library

"American Graphic Arts, a Chronology in Books, Prints and Drawings," will open in the Exhibition Galleries of the Princeton University Library on April 28.

Spanning the history of America in original visual documents, the first section of this major exhibition illustrates through books, manuscripts, prints and drawings the development of North America from its earliest depictions — found in an account by Amerigo Vespucci of his discoveries — to many of the greatest surviving visual records of the Revolution.

The Boston Massacre engraving, by Paul Revere, and the Declaration of Independence broadside are shown, as are the original wash drawings by John Trumbull of the Battle of Princeton, and the splendid full-figure painting of Washington after the Battle of Princeton by Charles Willson Peale.

The exhibition then continues in chronological sequence through the significant picture printing developments in the United States to the Civil War, where original recruitment posters, Harper's Weekly wood engravings, a Winslow Homer drawing, and Brady photographs of Lincoln bring the period to surprising life.

The final phase of the show, in the Leonard Milberg Gallery for the Graphic Arts (on the second floor of the Firestone Library exhibition space), displays American printmaking of the Victorian age — with emphasis on the development of popular prints — in the work of Currier & Ives and the chromolithography of Louis Prang.

A 200-page, fully illustrated catalog by Dale Roylance accompanies the exhibit. Priced at $20, the catalog is available from Rare Books and Special Collections, Firestone Library, Princeton University, Princeton 08544.

Gallery hours are 9 to 5 weekdays and 12 to 5 Saturday and Sunday. For more information call 258-3197.

"RHODODENDRONS," by Ken McIndoe, is part of an exhibit of the artist's work at The Norbert Considine Gallery at Stuart Country Day School through April 27.

ARTIST AT WORK: Dan Bushell of Lawrenceville, a freshman at Princeton Day School, readies sculpture for exhibition of art by students from kindergarten through 12th grade. The exhibit will open Friday with a preview party from 7 to 8 in the Anne Reid Art Gallery at PDS. A student chamber recital will follow from 8 to 9 in the theater lobby. The art exhibition will run through Friday, June 1. Gallery hours are weekdays from 8 to 4. (Christie Fulmer photo)

Exhibits

Selected works of eight contemporary Hispanic artists will be shown in an exhibition, "From The Outside In: Childhood Memories Touring Exhibition," on view from April 16 through May 11 at Trenton State College's Holman Hall Art Gallery. The opening reception will be held on Wednesday, April 18, from 5 to 7 p.m.

The work of the eight artists collectively forms a search for Latin American roots outside of their homelands. The contributing artists, hailing from various Latin American countries, have drawn inspiration from both history as well as direct experience. They include, Elena Climent and Alberto Mijango from Mexico, Sylvia Benitez-Stewart and Ralph De Romero from Puerto Rico, Carmen Lazo and Jesus Selgas from Cuba, Diogenes Abreu from the Dominican Republic, and Francisco Vidal from Colombia. All of the works on exhibition are on loan from the Museum of Contemporary Hispanic Art.

For more information, call the Trenton State College Art Department at 771-2652.

AT&T will present the Garden State Watercolor Society's members' show beginning May 5, at the Corporate Education Center Gallery on Carter Road, Hopewell. The opening reception is scheduled for May 10 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., and is open to the public.

The Garden State Watercolor Society, an organization of aquamedia artists was founded in 1969 by Dagmar H. Tribble of Princeton. Mrs. Tribble died in April, 1989. She was a well-known artist and one of the founders of the Princeton Art Association, now Artworks.

Artists exhibiting are Joanne Augustine, Linda Bradshaw, Marge Chavooshian, Jan Engdahl, Susan Ewart, Livy Glaubitz, Jane Whipple Green, Ann Gross, Robert Heyer, Harriet Kaftanic, Eileen H. Kane, Sylvia Kokatnur, Marietta Kust, Mary LaForge, Burton Longenbach, Fran Maurer, Terri McNichol, Charles McVicker, Lucy Graves McVicker, Beverly Nichel, Gail Robertson, Diana Wilkoc Patton, Robert Sakson, Carol Scott, Wilma Shiner and Betty Whelan.

AT&T's Corporate Education Center Gallery is open weekdays from 9 to 7. The exhibition will continue through June 20.

Oil paintings by Gary Komarin will be featured at the Chauncey Gallery of Educational Testing Service from April 23 through June 1.

A student of the late Philip Guston, Mr. Komarin incorporates touches of Dali, Rousseau and Picasso into his work. The New York Times said, "Mr. Komarin gives you an eyeful, but his canvases are consistently an intelligent and well-painted eyeful.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Admission is free, and all works are for sale.

Among the 65 area artists who will celebrate the 20th anniversary of Earth Day Sunday by donating artworks in all media for exhibit and sale, are Paul Matthews, formerly of Princeton, and Barry Snyder.

The exhibitions will have simultaneous opening receptions on Friday from 5 to 7 p.m. at Artfull Eye, Coryell Gallery, 4 Corners Gallery, Lambertville House, The Life Center, Rossi Gallery, all in Lambertville; the Cafe, Rosemont; 3 Cranes, New Hope, Pa., and Silver Lake Gallery, Yardley, Pa. The public is invited.

Tiger Lacrosse Scores another Big Upset, Women Also Win; But Baseball, Softball Run into Problems with Doubleheaders

The Easter Bunny visited the Princeton University athletic teams, but not every squad received the same kind of Easter surprises. While the lacrosse teams woke up to find baskets full of deliciously colored eggs, the baseball and softball teams uncoverd a few rotten ones in the bunch.

The men's lacrosse team continued to roll, edging Brown, the third-ranked team in the nation, 12-11, in a thrilling overtime contest in Providence, R.I., and dumping Penn, 16-6. Its female counterpart, the women's lacrosse team, was a double winner last week as well, thrashing West Chester 16-4, and nipping Brown by a 10-9 count.

The baseball team continued its trend of losing the first game and winning the second in its EIBL doubleheaders. The Tigers split with Penn, losing 2-0 and winning 5-1, and Navy, recording a 3-1 loss and 6-4 victory.

The softball team also played a pair of twinbills. Princeton fell 1-0 to Brown in Friday's opener, then forged a 5-5 tie in the nightcap, which was suspended due to darkness. Saturday the Tigers swept Yale, 3-2 and 6-2.

In other Princeton athletic action, the men's heavyweight crew took second in a meet on the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia Saturday. The Tiger varsity boat finished 6.6 seconds behind Penn. Columbia finished third in the three-team competition for the Childs Cup.

The women's crew team remained perfect by defeating Harvard and Cornell Saturday at Lake Carnegie. The Tigers are now 5-0 (3-0 Ivy).

The men's tennis team maintained an unblemished record as well, defeating Columbia, 6-2, and Navy, 9-0. The women's squad participated in only one meet last week, thumping Temple, 5-1 on Wednesday.

The greens were not too friendly to the golf team last weekend. Princeton finished 11th in the 21-team field at Penn State. The host Nittany Lions, who won the tourney, ended up 3t strokes ahead of the Tigers.

The track team had its troubles as well, falling in a close meet for the second straight time. After losing by one point to Penn two weeks ago, Princeton fell at Yale, 83-80.

The nationally-ranked volleyball team also had a dismal weekend. After beating Springfield in the opening round of the EIVA playoffs Friday at Jadwin Gym, the Tigers fell to George Mason, 3-0, on Saturday, and were eliminated from further post-season competition.

Third Upset for Tigers

What more can be said about the Princeton laxmen? For the third time this season, the Tigers knocked off a team ranked in the top ten nationally — each time on the road — and now hold the eighth ranking in the nation.

Saturday at Brown, the Orange and Black won its biggest game of the season to date, 12-11 over the Bruins in overtime. And what a game it was.

After falling behind early, which the Tigers have a disturbing tendency to do, Princeton rallied back to take a 7-3 lead midway through the third quarter. Completely dominating the play, it looked like the Tigers were well on their way to an upset.

But in a span of just 3:45, Brown scored a remarkable four goals to pull even at 7-7. The last of those four came with no time left on the clock in the third quarter, enraging Princeton coach Bill Tierney, who unsuccessfully petitioned to have the goal disallowed.

The Tigers were able to regain their composure in the fourth period though, building leads of 8-7, 10-8 and 11-10, but each time the Bruins fought back to even the score, knotting the game at 11-11 with just 48 seconds left in regulation.

Then, Brown almost won it. With just 10 seconds remaining, Bruin Neil Munro caught a pass a mere 10 feet from Tiger sophomore goalie Jim Ardrey. But Ardrey, who had made 11 saves already, charged forward and batted away Munro's shot to send the game into overtime.

Princeton controlled the extra period from the outset, but was unable to penetrate the tough Brown defense. Finally, with just 19 seconds left in the first overtime, senior midfielder and tri-captain Paul DiBello found freshman attacker John Burstein alone at the mouth of the goal, and he stuffed it past Bruin keeper Steven Ayers for the win.

Last Wednesday, the Tigers beat another ranked team — and beat them rather handily. Sparked by an 11-0 spurt, Princeton dumped visiting Penn, ranked 15th, 16-6. The Tigers will take their 8-2 (2-1 Ivy) record back to New England this Saturday to face yet another ranked Ivy team, No. 5 Harvard. Yale may have the inside track toward another Ivy title, but the Tigers have a solid shot at their first NCAA tournament bid ever.

Loxwomen Rebound

The laxwomen (6-1, 1-1 Ivy) also survived a cliffhanger in Providence last weekend, edging the Bruins, 10-9. Junior attacker Phyllis Fogarty tallied four times to spark the Tigers, who rallied back from a 5-2 deficit to take an 8-7 lead midway through the second half.

The Tigers opened up a 10-8 lead late in the game, but the Bruins scored with two minutes left to cut the lead to 10-9. Brown almost tied the contest, but divine Providence (not to be confused with the city) was on the side of the visitors, as a Bruin shot clanged off the goalpost with 30 seconds left.

Last Thursday, eighth-ranked Princeton had an easy time with West Chester, winning, 16-4 behind senior attacker Sara Slattery's five goals. The Tigers will host Penn on Thursday and Yale on Saturday on 1952 Field.

Reprogramming Needed

Perhaps the players on the Tiger baseball team should program their alarm clocks to go off before a doubleheader begins, not between games. For the third and fourth times in as many tries, Princeton split EIBL twinbills by losing the opener and capturing the nightcap.

Friday at Penn the Tigers (12-11, 4-4 EIBL) desperately needed a sweep if they were to maintain any realistic hope of catching the league-leading Quakers. But it wasn't to be.

Penn (9-3 EIBL) rode the strength of a two-run rally in the sixth inning, keyed by back-to-back doubles by Doug Glanville and Ben Breier, to slip by Princeton 2-0. Senior pitcher Matt Noone (1-4) allowed just four hits, but once again the Tiger offense was nonexistent, also managing just four hits and putting none of them together.

Senior Joe Sawyer (3-1) was not going to let Noone's fate befall him as well. The left-hander also scattered four hits, but allowed only one run in Princeton's 5-1 win in the nightcap. Senior catcher Ed Hockenbury's two-run single in the first inning highlighted a three-run rally to put the Tigers out in front to stay.

Against Navy, freshman hurler Todd Taylor (2-1) was the opening game victim of the slumbering Princeton batsmen. Freshman Johnny Rivers scored the only run for Old Nassau on sophomore Peter Noone's groundout in the fifth, but the Midshipmen registered single runs in the first, third and fifth innings to garner the 3-1 victory.

The nightcap, however, belonged to the Tigers from the start. Sawyer and senior third baseman Brad Remig each posted RBIs in the first inning, and rookie second baseman Dan Puskas had an RBI single in the second to build a 3-0 lead.

After Navy picked up a run off sophomore hurler Kevin Butterfield (3-1) in the bottom half of the second to cut the deficit to 3-1, Puskas responded with another RBI hit to up the lead back to 4-1. A fifth-inning error by Navy first baseman Matt Maloney boosted the Tiger lead to 5-1.

But the Midshipmen struck back with three unearned runs off Butterfield, narrowing the gap to one and forcing Butterfield from the game. Junior lefty Brian Zirlin came out of the bullpen, though, to quell the rally and pick up his second save.

Still, one wonders if the Orange and Black left their bats in the Carolinas during their spring break tour. The Tigers, who figured to have one of the stronger lineups in the league, have scored more than three runs in only three of their eight EIBL contests. They play at Bucknell Thursday, then host an EIBL twinbill against Cornell Saturday at Clarke Field.

Softball Has Seen It All

The softball team (11-8, 5-1 Ivy) has seen it all this year. Earlier in the season, Chris Cohen's brigade had games called on account of snow and rain. After last weekend, darkness can be added to that list. In Friday's twinbill at Brown, the nightcap was called after seven innings with the score tied at 5-5, and no date has been scheduled for its completion. The Tigers had lost the opener, 1-0, their first Ivy loss of the year.

Princeton got back on the winning track, though, Saturday at Yale, as it swept a doubleheader, 3-2 and 6-2. In the opener, the Tigers rallied for three runs in the sixth inning to overcome a 2-0 deficit, thanks to a bases-loaded triple by sophomore Dyan Dieda. Junior Lori Dickerson went the distance for the victory, improving her mark to 2-2.

Princeton needed no late-inning rally in the nightcap, jumping out to an early 2-0 lead and never trailing. Sophomore Leslie Silverman put the Tigers on the board in the first with a two-RBI triple.

Princeton added four more runs on a two-out rally in the third inning to up its lead to 6-0. The Elis could manage only two runs off junior hurler Christie Susko, who raised her record to 4-3. Rookie Stacie Bonner picked up her first career save for the Tigers.

Women's Lacrosse Championships Here

Princton University's Palmer Stadium will be the site of the 1990 NCAA Women's Lacrosse Championships, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 19 and 20.

The nation's top four National Collegiate and Division III teams will compete in the semi-finals on Saturday. The Division III matches will take place at 10 a.m. and noon; the National Collegiate matches will follow at 2 and 4.

The semi-final winners will advance to the finals on Sunday. The Division III title game begins at 1; the National Collegiate championship is slated for 3.

Advance tickets can be purchased by mail through the Princeton University Ticket Office, 258-3538, between 10 and 2, Monday through Friday. Tickets also may be purchased at the gate beginning May 19.

Ticket prices are: one-day pass, $6 for adults, $4 for students; two-day pass, $10 for adults, $7 for students.

Hun Is King of the Hill In Princeton Lacrosse

This one, Hun coach Dave Faus had said before the game, was for bragging rights to Princeton.

Hun followed its 7-5 victory over Princeton High with a 9-4 triumph last week over its other town rival, Princeton Day School. Thus three games into the season, Hun has earned the Champions of Princeton title, owns a 3-0 record and is looking for more conquests. "We're excited. We continue to work hard," said Faus.

Hun will be tested severely — and often — in the week ahead. The Raiders begin by hosting Hunterdon Central on Thursday at 4. The Red Devils are ranked eighth in the State, Faus reported. "It's someone we want to play and do well against."

Next, Hun will be at Blair on Saturday and then entertain Peddie on Tuesday at 4. It was scheduled to play Morristown earlier in the week. By week's end, Hun will be halfway through it regular season schedule.

Shots Tell the Story

"I think the shots tell the story," commented Faus, after his team's victory over PDS. Hun outshot the Panthers, 38-18, on the wet and sloppy PDS field which Faus said affected the level of play.

Hun received standout performances from George Cole and Joe Tinervan, each of whom scored a hat trick. "Cole had a great game," said Faus. Cole leads the team in scoring with seven goals, while Tinervan is one goal behind with six. Even before the season started, Faus had remarked, "Keep you eye on Tinervan. He going to be something this year."

Senior middy Ted Dalton scored a pair of goals for Hun — his first of the season — and

THE 1990-91 BUDGET OF THE PRINCETON REGIONAL SCHOOLS

Support of Educational Values

The way we choose to spend our funds in educating our children reflects the values we share. The 1990-91 budget reflects many hours of thoughtful planning by staff, community, and Board of Education and many hours of discussion of what we value in our educational system.

We continue to value a classroom environment where teachers can focus on each child and his or her needs. This implies experienced, dedicated teachers and support staff, class sizes that are appropriate, space in the schools to deliver the educational program, constant attention to the content of the curriculum, and actively-involved and supportive parents.

The budget reflects many decisions that support these values.

Carol B. Choye
Superintendent of Schools

Todd Coyer added his second goal of the campaign.

"We still haven't been able to put 40 minutes of good lacrosse together," said Faus, but then, he smiled, "I guess a coach is always looking for that extra something."

Right now, Faus admitted, he is more than satisfied with his team's performance in the more difficult Gibbs division which the Raiders are competing in this spring.

PHS Netmen Perfect; Hamilton Latest Victim

Someday soon, a team is going to take a game from the Princeton High tennis team — but it hasn't happened yet.

The Little Tigers last week blanked Hamilton, 5-0, for its fourth consecutive win and its fourth 5-0 triumph.

In singles play, Nick Leschly — closing in on 100 career victories — defeated Eli Talbert in first singles, 6-1, 6-0. At second singles, Dan Horowitz won the meet's only three-setter, coming back after losing the opening set, 6-7, to win the next two, 6-3, 6-0. George Khalaf breezed past Jack Chiang, 6-0, 6-0, at third singles.

In doubles play, Jason Cohen and Brent Breithaupt won, 6-4, 6-4. In the second doubles, PHS seniors Damon Ross and Austin Frakt triumphed 6-2, 6-1.

Little Tigers Lose, 10-1, As Kagay Goes Distance

There were some good aspects but a lot of bad ones, too, observed Princeton High baseball coach Larry Mansier Monday, after PHS had dropped a 10-1 decision to Nottingham — its third loss in a row after an opening win.

One of the few good aspects was senior righthander Chris Kagay, after two previous shaky starts, becoming the first PHS hurler to go the distance. "He did a lot better than the score indicates," said Mansier. Only two of Nottingham's ten runs were earned.

Kagay, said Mansier, got better as he went along. "He was out for a full year and he was pitching against one of the better teams in the conference. He didn't walk many (seven) and he didn't strike out many (four) but he received absolutely brutal support in the field."

Kagay's counterpart, Nottingham's ace Ray Sharpley, was sharp. He limited PHS to three scattered hits and struck out ten. "He got a lot of our guys looking; we were not aggressive at the plate," said Mansier.

Luis Estrada's hit drove in Princeton's only run in the first. Tom Shockley and Ben Stentz had the other two Little Tiger safeties.

Nottingham matched Princeton's run in its half of the first and then broke the game open with six more in the second. It was 8-1 after three. "We were looking at the 10-run rule," observed Mansier, "but they never got it."

Under a new NJSIAA rule this year designed to protect pitchers' arms from injury and overwork, a pitcher who hurls six or more innings on one day may not appear again for three calendar days. A pitcher who works five innings or less may not appear again for one calendar day and no pitcher can work more than a total of ten innings during any four-day period. The rule puts a strain on smaller schools such as Princeton with a limited squad.

That is one reason why Mansier was pleased with Kagay's route-going performance. "I think the kids sensed he could pitch halfway through the game," he said. "He wasn't knocking guys down but he was getting outs — when he was getting support."

Hun Tops Steinert, 7-6, For First Spartan Win

"We got lucky," said Hun coach Bill McQuade Monday, after his team had survived a last inning scare against Steinert and held on for a 7-6 victory.

"We haven't played them that often but this is the first time we've beaten Steinert," reported McQuade. "It's nice to be able to beat a team of that caliber. 'It's something special. The kids fought hard and they deserve it."

The win was the second for the Raiders against one loss. Hun, like most teams this spring, is behind in the schedule. It will host Ewing Saturday morning at 10, and oppose Lawrenceville School on Monday in a makeup game. It was scheduled to play Pennington School earlier in the week.

Rocky Start for Vogler

Hun hurler Mike Vogler got off to a rocky start against Steinert, as the Spartans scored three runs in the first and added a single run in the third to take a 4-0 lead. In the fifth, Hun got three back. Hits by Tom Chicaccio and Matt Hyldahl and Vogler getting hit by a pitch loaded the bases. Hun slugger, first baseman Cecil Boone, plated two runs with his single and Danny Wilson's clutch hit sent another run across.

In the next inning, the luck McQuade spoke of started to come Hun's way. Hits by Chiacchio and Hyldahl (those two and Vogler each had two hits off the Spartan's top pitcher, Dave Hunt) and a walk to Mike D'Allegro loaded the bases. Catcher Ricky Uhr hit a sky-high pop which the Steinert second baseman, Kevin Bloodsworth, misplayed for a two-run error. A wild pitch added another run to give Hun a 7-4 lead.

D'Allegro, who replaced Vogler on the mound after four innings, held the home team Spartans scoreless in the fifth and sixth innings. He began the seventh, however, by walking the first three batters he faced. McQuade brought Vogler back to the mound. Vogler immediately uncorked a wild pitch to plate one run.

Then on a fielder's choice to short, D'Allegro's throw to the plate was a second late on a close play and Steinert had cut the margin to 7-6. A walk loaded the bases again — still with no outs.

As McQuade waited for what seemed to be the inevitable, Hun really got lucky. Pinch hitter Brian Giallella smacked a line drive to second which Chiacchio gloved just above the ground and then fired to first to double the runner to complete a sparkling defensive effort. Vogler struck out the next batter on four pitchers for the game-ending out.

"We went from horrible to a win. That's what makes baseball so great," said McQuade. "The ball took a couple of bounces that went our way today."

DOWN BUT NOT OUT: Princeton High's Tom Murray stumbles while under pressure behind Lawrenceville goal, but later scored the winning goal in sudden-death overtime to give PHS lacrosse team a 7-6 victory over the Big Red — its first since 1978.

PHS Downs Lawrenceville 7-6 on Murray's OT Goal

It hadn't happened in twelve years. So when it happened again on Thursday, followers of the Princeton High boys' lacrosse team knew it was something special. It was.

The Little Tigers had just shocked visiting and undefeated Lawrenceville, 7-6, on Tom Murray's sudden death, overtime goal. The last time PHS had defeated the Larries was in 1978 when they were sparked by a pair of junior defensemen, Jim and Cal Harris.

Today, Jim Harris is starting his third year as head coach of the Little Tigers and if this wasn't one of his most satisfying wins, he would be hard-pressed to find one sweeter. His twin brother Cal watched from the sidelines.

When first Lawrenceville and then Princeton gained leads and as the contest progressed to its dramatic conclusion one could almost reach out and touch the bond between them as Jim and Cal tried to pull the team to victory by the force of their will alone.

"This is exactly what I thought it would be," said Cal, as he reacted to every adverse call, every success by the team.

Quick 2-0 Lead

PHS had pointed to this game. But from the opening minutes, it appeared as if the Big Red was headed for another triumph. Lawrenceville had won a record 17 games the previous year in winning all but one of its 18 starts. What's more, Lawrenceville's veteran coach Marshall Chambers had announced that this season, his 32nd, would be his last. There was the added incentive for the Larry players to fashion another great year for their departing coach.

Toward that goal, Lawrenceville had won its first four games this year, including a 9-4 victory over a good Hunterdon Central team the previous day. Number five seemed a sure thing when, 50 seconds into its contest with PHS, the visiting Big Red scored. Thirty-five seconds later it scored again to take a quick, 2-0 lead. "I think we were too psyched up at the beginning of the game," said Harris.

Wanted It Badly

"I knew we could come back," said Harris after the contest had ended, still exulting in the win. Number one, the players wanted to beat this team so badly they could taste it. Number two: They never give up. We came back against Manuel and I knew we could do it again." Although Murray was the most obvious hero, Harris said that everybody shared in the win. "I don't want to single anybody out."

In its previous start, PHS had fallen three goals behind East Manuel High School of Denver, the Colorado state champions making an Eastern tour. The Little Tigers scraped back and won it, 10-9, on Doug Rohrer's goal with ten seconds left in regular time. Tad Kinchla had scored five goals and Murray three in that win.

Against Lawrenceville, Rohrer scored Princeton's first goal, beating first-year goalie Matt Womble to cut the Big Red lead in half. Lawrenceville scored again, however, to go up 3-1 in the first period. In the second, an aggressive, driving Kinchla scored twice for PHS and Lawrenceville scored again as the half ended, 5-3. Mike Precheur assisted on two of Princeton's goals, Anthony White on one.

In the third period, Murray cut it to 5-4 off a length-of-the-field gallop by Precheur, who at the last moment fed a cutting Murray for the goal. It was a textbook play.

"We did the same things we always do but I felt the tempo change in the middle of the third period," replied Harris when asked if he could isolate a turning point in the contest. "You could feel their energy, their belief that they would win."

Kinchla's third goal in the final period tied the score at 5. PHS regained possession and circled the Lawrenceville goal. Passing ... passing ... patiently ... passing ... Murray cutting and scoring to give PHS its first lead, 6-5. Harris called time with 5:40. Moments later, Dave Comfort scored an unassisted goal for the Big Red to tie the score again.

Harris took his second and last timeout of the half and told his players, "This is it right here."

The pressure increased another notch, as Lawrenceville called time with 80 seconds left before mounting a final rush at the PHS goal. The Big Red got off two shots but PHS goalie Ryan Branon, who got better as the game went on, was magnificent. He stopped both, his 13th and 14th saves of the game. Lawrenceville was whistled for interference, PHS gained possession but was unable to score as time ran out.

Sudden Death

The two teams would play three-minute, sudden death overtime periods until one scored. As it turned out only a minute was needed. Controlling the faceoff, the Little Tigers converged around Womble. Kinchla took the shot. It was DOUBLE TROUBLE: Doug Rohrer (left in white shirt) and Tad Kinchla (60) are point blank steps away from the Lawrenceville goal in last week's 7-6 victory over the Big Red. Rohrer scored Princeton's first goal and Kinchla, the team's leading scorer, added three, to lead Little Tigers to their big win.

defensive outfield," said Mansier.

Mansier also cited the support of his three co-captains, Don DiDonato, Scott Petrone and Estrada. "Every inning they're pushing the kids to do more and more. There's a lot of spirit there."

Estrada Starts

Estrada started on the mound and pitched five innings. "It was a shame he lost because he pitched a good game," commented Mansier. Estrada's only mistake was serving up a three-run homer to Hamilton's sophomore third baseman Steve Kraemer, who also doubled and drove in three runs for the Hornets. "He killed us," agreed Mansier.

Ironically, Kraemer's blast came after everyone on the Princeton team thought he had come around on what would have been a third strike. The plate ump, however, ruled he blocked but when Murray scooped up the loose ball, circled around the net and pulled the trigger on a back-door shot just inside the pipe, Harris, assistant coach Howie Rubenstein, Murray and the entire Little tiger team erupted into a dance of joy. Twelve years of frustration erased in one glorious moment.

PHS will travel to Flemington this Wednesday to face Hunterdon Central. host Bridgewater East on Saturday at 1 and then oppose Westfield away on Monday. All three represent stern challenges to the Little Tigers but no matter what the outcome, this season will be remembered for the win over Lawrenceville.

With three goals apiece in the Lawrenceville game, Kinchla and Murray lead PHS in scoring with 12 and 7 goals respectively. The Little Tigers have won three of their first four.

PHS Nine Edged, 6-5, In Nine by Hamilton

Questionable calls of apparent strikes that walked in the winning run, two errors that allowed two runs to score, throwing a called pitchout on the wrong side of the plate and sending the tying run home — these untidy occurences combined to undo the Princeton High baseball team last week. Unbeaten Hamilton scored the winning run in the ninth inning to claim a 6-5 decision for its third straight win and sent the Little Tigers home with a 1-2 record

Wasted in the loss were 11 hits by the Little Tigers and some decent pitching by Luis Estrada and Tom Shockley and — aside from those two errors — a good defensive effort.

"We had them in the bag and we couldn't close the bag," said PHS coach Larry Mansier. "We're playing a lot better than last year. We could very well be 2-1. There's no doubt in my mind that we should have won this game." Pointing out that PHS came from behind to take the lead against Hamilton, as it did in its opening win over McCorristin, Mansier said, "It is obvious to me that we can beat anybody."

Although school is closed for spring vacation, the Little Tigers will be busy this week. Following a contest with Nottingham, they will play a make-up game this Wednesday at 3:45 against Princeton Day School at the PDS diamond and host Steinert on Thursday at 3:45. Monday afternoon they will be at West Windsor High.

Veteran outfielder Danny Page, who missed the opener and had to sit out the next two games, will return to left. With hard-hitting Dave Long in right and sophomore Ben Stentz in center, "that is a very good, had pulled up in time, giving Kraemer new life.

That hlast gave Hamilton a 3-1 lead. But PHS, after scoring single runs in the second and fourth innings, regained the lead with three more in the sixth. Stentz, with two hits and two RBIs, Long with two hits, including a triple, and Tom Shockley led Princeton at the plate. Long is batting .600 and Estrada (one hit against Hamilton) is ripping the hall at better than a .500 clip.

Shockley came on in the sixth and gave up five hits and three runs, including two in the seventh when Hamilton tied it to send the game into extra innings. In the seventh, sensing Hamilton was going to run, PHS catcher Russ Levine called for a pitchout but the pitch came behind the batter. "I couldn't believe it," said Mansier.

In the bottom of the ninth, Hamilton's leadoff batter got on via an infield error. The winning run was walked home. Recalled Mansier, "Shockley threw four pitches basically over the heart of the plate. The umpire called every one a ball."

Unfair? Unlucky? "I think at this point, the kids know that they make their own luck," concluded Mansier.

PHS Girls Net 16 Goals In Peddie Lacrosse Rout

Erupting for more goals than it had scored in its previous three games, the Princeton High girls' lacrosse team stormed from behind last week to rout Peddie School, 16-9. Sarah Willard, who had scored two goals going into the game, scored five in the first 25 minutes to lead the PHS surge, as the visiting Blue and White evened its record at 2-2.

In games this week, PHS will be at rival Princeton Day School this Wednesday at 3:45, and at West Windsor the following day before it hosts Lawrenceville School in a Monday contest at 3:45 at the PHS field.

To Win You Have to Score

After PHS had been outscored, 18-6, in two previous losses, PHS coach Joyce Jones had impressed upon her team that when it had possession and the momentum, the Little Tigers had to finish it off by putting the ball in the goal. When you don't score, she said, the momentum swings right back the other way.

Early on, Peddie had all the momentum when it jumped to a 4-1 lead. It appeared that the Falcons, who had upended PHS 10-7 last year, were well on the way to duplicating that success. The Little Tigers, it turned out, had had enough.

First Piper Darley, Sarah Geller and Elise Wilson scored to cut the margin.

Then, after the Falcons' Dina Pascarelli scored her third goal of the first half, Willard scored her second to tie the score at five. Peddie coach Tina Preville called time to cool off the Little Tigers but PHS was just warming up.

Princeton scored the next six goals to go up 11-5. The scoring went Elise Wilson-Willard-Willard-Samantha Skey-Sonya Soderberg-Willard The final tally: Willard five goals, Wilson three, Soderberg and Darley two each, and Geller, Skey, Liz Guthrie and Alisa MacNeille, one each.

Through four games, Soderberg has scored nine goals, Willard seven and Wilson, six.

Visiting PHS combined its potent offense with a fine defensive effort as the game progressed. The combination was lethal. "When the defense and Joan [PHS goalie Joan Sullivan who had 15 saves] play as a team, it results in turnovers," Jones explained.

Darley and Geller contributed with some spirited midfield play that triggered Princeton's thrusts downfield.

PHS Trackmen Top Rams Boys, Girls Teams Win

Both the Princeton High boys' and girls' track teams remained unbeaten last week by posting wins over Hightstown. Piling up points in the field events, the boys won, 91-40; the girls overcame the Rams' Haylee Schneider, who won four events, for a 71-51 victory.

Both Little Tiger teams will be tested to the utmost on Tuesday when they engage unbeaten Trenton High and Steinert in a tri-meet. The boys will be at home, the girls at Trenton.

The weather for last Wednesday's meet, as has been true of most of this spring so far, was cold. Conditions were so bad that coach Marc Anderson said that he was happy that no one got hurt. Each time out, he said, the times get a little better. "We are improving with each meet."

PHS fashioned a strong showing in the field events against visiting Hightstown, sweeping the high jump, pole vault, discus and shot put. Sophomore Taron Conover, Princeton's only double winner in the meet, won the high jump and took the 110 hurdles. Todd Marrow led the PHS sweep in the vault, Will Dickerson's toss of 104-3 was good for first in the discus and Sal Palomino won the shot with a 40-1 effort.

Vance Liverman won the long jump for PHS with Conover taking third. Hightstown's only breakthrough in the field events came in the javelin where Erik Van Weezendonk won that event with a toss of 128-10 but PHS took second (Rob Morris) and third (Vandyke Grant.)

Princeton's triumphs on the track came in the 400-meter which Aaron Burt took in 55.5 and the 400 hurdles. Eugene Leung won the latter in 66.4. Doug Bolender finished second in both the 1600 and 3200 events.

PHS sprinter Davy Kahn was nipped by the Ram's Rob Pedowitz in the 100 (both were clocked in 11.6) and Pedowitz also captured the 200 in 24.2, nipping Princeton's Guy Romain (24.7) and Liverman (24.9). Hightstown's Eric Siskind defeated Bolender in both distance events.

Ringland, Graves Double

In the girls' meet at Hightstown, Princeton High's Kesti Ringland and Christina Graves both won their specialties. Ringland claimed the 100 and 200 sprints in 13.7 and 29.5 (PHS swept five of the six finishes in the two events) while Graves maintained her supremecy in the longer distances. She won the 1600 in 5:57 and the 3200 in 13:13.3.

The meet's dominant performer, however, was Schneider who won the 100 and 400 hurdles, the long jump and high jump.

Other winners for PHS were Jen Wolinetz and Nicole Klein who were tied for first in the 400 in 1:07, Andrea Gonzalez-Lavin in the 800, Ailey Penningroth in the shot and Heidi Applegate in the discus. Wolinetz, Cathy Neuger, Klein and Penningroth combined to take the 4x400 in 5:03.

Season Starts Tuesday For Ficarro's Auto Body

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team will begin play in the Mercer County Women's league on Tuesday when it plays last season's playoff champion, Grove Plumbing, at 8:30 p.m. at Mercer county Park's field #3.

This year there are 12 teams in the league, which plays on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and each team plays every other team twice for 22 games.

The third round (five games) will match opponents of relatively equal strength, based upon last season's order of finish. Ficarro's finished fourth a year ago, so its third round opponents will be defending league champion Three Seasons Sporting Goods, Grove, Larkin's Gulf, Eagle Electric, and Miller Lite.

The other teams in the league are Dot's Girls, Matt and Al's Stars, Z&W Mazda, Mercer Spring, the Misfits, and Players. The league champion will be the team with the best regular season record, and there will also be a playoff champion determined from among the top six teams.

Clare Baxter Retiring

Bob Smyth begins his sixth season as Ficarro's manager. Recently, Smyth announced the retirement of veteran players Clare Baxter and Dee Vertucci, who between them had 20 years of service to the team. Both players were honored at Ficarro's annual softball banquet and had their jersey numbers officially retired. Baxter was one of the best slow pitch softball pitchers in the County and the State, amassing more than 300 career wins.

Vertucci was a solid performer and standout defensive player at third base. Also gone from last year's team is Janet Comerford, consistently one of Ficarro's best hitters, who will be on maternity leave.

CALLS IT A CAREER: Clare Baxter, leading softball pitcher for first, New Jersey Corn, and later, Steve Ficarro's Auto Body, has decided to call it a career, after more than 300 wins.

Returning to the team will be three proven hitters, who were missed last year. Beth Ault, at second base, returns from maternity leave, outfielder Debbie Smyth has recovered from shoulder and ankle surgery, and outfielder Donna Nicholson has come out of retirement. "The return of Beth, Debbie, and Donna will help our offense, which was inconsistent last year," Smyth commented. "Donna brings with her a special leadership quality."

Returning veterans are Grace Durland (third base) and Cindy Lombardo (left field), who were elected co-captains for the second consecutive year. Also back are Dee Discavage (first base), Doreen "Bip" Romanchuk (left centerfield), last year's rookie-of-the-year Trisha Kane (shortstop), Cee Aerstin (outfield), Karen Sprague (pitcher-infield), Gail Johnson (pitcher), Alison Aaron, Dee Dee Prickett, and Diane Koye. Last year's players Robyn Hart, Liz Sellinger, and Judy Guzy will be available on a limited basis, as will Diane Kelly, who played two years ago. Pitcher Louann Slocum-Robidoux, who played in the early 1980s, will also lend her expertise and experience to the team.

Faur New Players

Ficarro's welcomes four new players this season. Anne Donohue, an infielder, played varsity softball and basketball at Penn State, graduating in 1988. Donohue was an All-Conference selection in softball as a senior, and has played the past two seasons in the Philadelphia City League. Jamie Burress, a hard-throwing outfielder who played on the great Rascals teams of Woodbridge in the 1980s has recovered from severe knee injuries and will provide depth to the team.

Maryann McMenamin is a 1985 West Windsor-Plainsboro High School graduate, who played varsity field hockey, basketball and softball. McMenamin, who graduated from Gettysburg College in 1989, where she played four years of varsity softball, will serve as a utility player. Charlotte Damasco, a 1983 Hightstown High School graduate, was an outfielder on the strong 1984 and '85 Mercer County Community College softball teams that had success at both the regional and national levels.

"We have a lot of quality players this year," Smyth said. "If we can put everything together, we'll be competitive in our league, which is the best in the State. We would also like to do well in the New Jersey State Championship Tournament."

Ficarro's won a record six straight USSSA New Jersey State titles (1983-88) but did not defend its crown in 1989. The team also won the Mercer County League championship a record six times in the 1980s.

Peddie Is Next Opponent For PDS Boys' Lacrosse

The Princeton Day lacrosse team faces another difficult opponent this Wednesday when it meets Peddie at home.

The Panthers, winners of their first three against lesser foes, ran into a strong Hun squad last Wednesday, and lost 9-4. Coach Bob Krueger's team played a decent game overall, but lapses on defense allowed the Raiders to score easily at times.

On offense, the Panthers got a pair of goals from Charlie Baker, and one each from Ara Baronian and Campbell Levy. However, the Blue and White did not get any goals from its two high scorers. Chris Lake was sidelined with a broken thumb, and this allowed the Hun defense to concentrate on stopping Lucas Altman, which it did.

Krueger sees the Peddie game as PDS's toughest league contest in the Prep B division. A year ago the Falcons prevailed, 7-3.

Kim Bedesem's girls' team will have had plenty of time to prepare for a pair of tough and emotional games this week against nearby rivals. The Panthers won their opening game against Pingry on April 6, but have not played since.

This Wednesday they will face Princeton High at PDS. These two teams have a history of good, close games over the past several years, with each winning its share. The Little Tigers are 2-2 at the moment.

Two days later, PDS will not have to worry about an emotional letdown because Lawrenceville will be in town. Any game against the Larries is certain to be hard fought. Last year the Red and Black won the only meeting between the two, 11-8.

Both had hoped to meet again in the Prep A finals, but Dwight knocked out PDS and Lawrenceville lost to Kent Place in the semifinals. The result of this game will go a long way to determining the seedings for this year's tournament.

Princeton Day Nine Ties Pennington in Baseball

It's been several years, sometime back in the early 80's, since Princeton Day has defeated Pennington in baseball. The Panthers have not been able to put together a winning record in the sport in a long time, and the inability to beat a solid team like Pennington has been no surprise.

But the tide has begun to change, albeit a little at a time. Last year, the Blue and White almost downed the Raiders before losing, 9-8, in extra innings. Last Wednesday, PDS played its nearby rival to a 2-2 tie in a game called after 10 innings.

Paul Brown's team is off to a 1-0-1 mark in the early going, and that also is a welcome change from the poor starts in previous years. Lawrenceville is next on the schedule this Friday, and barring a small miracle that will probably put the first mark under the "L" column. However, PDS will have a chance to rebound just 24 hours later against Rutgers Prep.

Princeton Day's Joel Totten went the whole way on the mound and was alternately his best friend and worst enemy. The junior hurler allowed just seven hits and one earned run, striking out 12 along the way. However, he also walked six and threw four wild pitches. Two of them in the sixth helped Pennington tie the score at 2-2.

The home team got the first run of the game in the opening inning on a walk, a steal of second and two throwing errors. The Panthers countered in the third when sophomore Dave Jackson walked, stole second and third and scored when shortstop Harvey Bradley hit into a fielder's choice.

Bradley, who had two of PDS's five hits and both RBIs, put the Blue and White ahead in the fifth when his double drove home freshman Matt Rothfleish who had reached base on an error.

Totten's spate of wildness in the sixth allowed Pennington to tie the score, but he did not allow another run, and neither did the Raiders' Sean Dawson.

The PDS softball team lost its second straight game, after an opening victory over Rutgers Prep. Benefitting from an eight-run first inning, Hun routed Debbie Manno's girls, 16-1.

The Raiders scored a single tally in the second, four more in the third, and three in the fourth. PDS notched its lone tally in the fifth, before the game was called under the 15-run "slaughter rule."

The opposition won't get any easier for the Panthers, who next play Peddie on Friday, and Montclair-Kimberley Saturday afternoon.

PDS Tennis Rolls, 4-1, Over Hun; Panthers, 5-0

The Princeton Day tennis team has hardly worked up a sweat in winning its first five matches, including three more last week.

The real reason has been that with temperatures in the 40's and low 50's its been impossible to do so. But, the competition hasn't been so hot either.

That will change this week when the Panthers are scheduled to take on Montclair-Kimberley on Tuesday and powerful Newark Academy on Friday. "We haven't really been tested yet," coach Rome Campbell acknowledged.

In five contests, PDS has lost just two of 25 matches. One was a rain-shortened affair against Pennington, where Scott Newhall had lost only one set, and the other came last Thursday when a bad back forced Tom Galli to pull out of his match at third singles.

However, everyone else won for PDS, which had a slightly revised line-up with David Suomi in Florida. Newhall won easily in two sets, and Rob Wirstrom, who moved up from second doubles, had no trouble at second singles. Jason Hollander and David Ragsdale continued undefeated at first doubles, and sophomore Jason Bilanin, called up from the jayvee, teamed with Marc Wirstrom to capture the second doubles match.

The previous day, PDS blew away Morristown-Beard, 5-0. The regular double teams lost just two games each, and Suomi and Galli also won in straight sets at two and three. Newhall, playing number one, was extended to three sets, before winning 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

Against Pennington, a week ago Tuesday, Newhall had his problems with Don Marriot, losing the first set 7-5, and falling behind in the second, 1-0, before the rain forced a halt, and Marriot was declared the winner. However, the other PDS players did not lose a single game.

The PDS golf team lost its first match in three outings last Wednesday when it lost to Blair by 10 strokes, 221 to 231 in north Jersey. Scott Anzel led the Panthers with a nine-hole score of 42. Stuart Katzoff and Dave Maziarz finished with 45's, Dan Graziano had a 46, and Dan Helmick, 53.

Track Meet April 28 For Boys & Girls, 9-14

The Princeton Recreation Department will hold its Hershey's Track and Field Meet next Saturday, April 28, at 9 a.m. at the Princeton High School track. The raindate is May 12.

The meet is open to boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 14. Flyers and schedules of events are available at the Recreation Office, 380 Witherspoon Street, and at all schools in Princeton.

This meet offers the following events: 50, 100, 200, 400, 800, and 1600 meter races, 4x100 meter relay, standing long jump and softball throw. Participants are eligible to participate in three events: two running and one field or two field and one running. All first-place winners will be eligible to participate and represent Princeton in the district championships. Winners of that meet will advance to a State final.

Volunteers are needed. Those interested should call 921-9480.

PEOPLE in the News

Conversations on the Character of Princeton by William McCleery, veteran journalist and playwright; has been reissued in a third edition. The soft-cover volume, originally published in 1986, has University scholars — including Carlos Baker, Natalie Davis, Carl Schorske, and Elaine Showalter — and basketball coach Pete Carril talking informally of what distinguishes Princeton from similar institutions.

The third edition includes a new foreword by Princeton's president, Harold T. Shapiro, and a new afterword by former governor of New Jersey, now president of Drew university, Thomas H. Kean '57. The book's introduction is by biologist and author Lewis Thomas '33.

Mr. McCleery's experience with Princeton University spans more than two decades, during which he edited the quarterly magazine University, taught a playwriting workshop, and edited the public papers of Robert F. Goheen, former University president. He wrote The Story of a Campaign for Princeton, 1981-86, a history of Princeton's $410.5 million campaign, published in 1987. He has also published 10 plays, including two produced on Broadway, and a children's book Wolf Story.

Conversations on the Character of Princeton is available at local bookstores and at the Princeton University Office of Communications/Publications, Stanhope Hall, for $8.95 per copy. Postpaid copies at $10 are available through the Office of Communications/Publications.

Louise Wilkinson, of Hereford Drive, Princeton Junction, dean of Rutgers' Graduate School of Education, will be inducted as an honorary member of Kappa Delta Pi, the National Education Honor Society Thursday.

She is being honored for the strong interest she has shown in preparing young people to become educators, as well as her leadership role in developing programs to reach out to local public school systems.

Before coming to Rutgers in 1986, Mrs. Wilkinson was the executive officer of the doctorate program in educational psychology at the City University of New York, and chairwoman of the department of education psychology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her extensive research on children's language has generated more than 70 book chapters and articles on classroom communication and learning. She has edited or co-edited three books on learning in the classroom.

Mrs. Wilkinson was recently elected vice president of the American Educational Research Association.

"SOLUTIONS TO THE RISING COST OF NURSING HOME CARE"

A SEMINAR

- NURSING HOME CARE COSTS EXCEED $100 PER DAY
- TO QUALIFY FOR MEDICAID, INDIVIDUALS MUST EXHAUST MOST OF THEIR LIFE SAVINGS

The need for long-term care will be financially devastating not only for the care recipient but also for his or her family.

The solutions to the crisis of financing long-term care which have been used in the past are no longer acceptable. Recent changes in the law have severely restricted the use of Medicaid Trusts. The increase in bankruptcy filings and divorces have made traditional planning techniques extremely dangerous.

The seminar will discuss these problems and present some innovative solutions.

OBITUARIES

Felton L. Gibbons, 60, a retired member of the Princeton University Art Department, died April 10 at his home in East Amwell. Born in Pittsburgh, he lived in Princeton before moving to East Amwell 10 years ago.

Mr. Gibbons was an art historian who specialized in the study of Italian Renaissance art. In his later years he became an avid bird watcher. He received his bachelor's degree from Yale University in 1951 and a master's and Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1957 and 1961.

A lieutenant in the U.S. Navy during the Korean conflict, he taught at Princeton from 1960 until his retirement in 1982. He was a Fulbright research scholar in 1964 and a fellow of the Harvard University Center for Italian Renaissance Studies, Villa i Tatti, in Florence, Italy, where he served as local administrator for the Committee to Rescue Italian Art after the 1966 flood of the River Arno which damaged many Renaissance paintings.

Mr. Gibbons published numerous articles in his field as well as two books, a monograph of the 16th-century Italian artists Dosso and Batista Dossi, and a catalog of Italian drawings in the Princeton University Art Musuem, where he was curator of drawings. With his second wife, Deborah Strom Gibbons, he wrote a history of bird watching in America, titled Neighbors to the Birds.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by a son, David of New York; a daughter, Elizabeth of Montara, Calif.; a brother, Maxfield of Greenwich, Conn.; and a granddaughter.

The service was held in the Larison's Corner Presbyterian Church, Ringoes, with burial in Highland Cemetery, Hopewell. Memorial contributions may be made to the Heritage Island Trust, Stonington, Maine 04681.

Peter T. Suro Jr., 32, of Lawrenceville, died April 11 in St. Francis Medical Center.

Born in Trenton, he lived in the Pennington area for many years before moving to Lawrenceville 10 years ago. He was employed as a transportation manager for Core States New Jersey National Bank for the past five years.

Son of the late Peter and Edna Merritt Suro, and brother of the late Robert M. Suro, he is survived by two sisters, Geri Stover of Pennington and Francine Fearnbach of Hopewell Township; a brother, Thomas P. Suro of Lawrenceville; a friend, Dale J. Andress of Lawrenceville; a nephew, David Andress of Lawrenceville; and several other nieces and nephews.

The service was held at a Lawrenceville funeral home, the Rev. James J. McConnell, pastor of St. James Roman Catholic Church, officiating.

Esther Todd, 90, died April 13 in Chandler Hall, Newtown, Pa.

Born in Melrose, Mass., Miss Todd lived in Princeton for many years before moving to Chandler Hall six months ago. She was a retired social worker and had worked for the YMCA and area hospitals. A graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, she was a longtime member of Princeton Monthly Meeting and the oldest active member.

Surviving are a niece, Dorothy Winifred Dolliver of Needham, Mass., and a nephew, Robert W. Todd of Upper Montclair.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 2 at the Friends Meeting House, Quaker Road. Burial will be in Massachusetts. Arrangements are under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton Monthly Meeting.

Rose W. McCracken, 89, died April 11 at Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Perth Amboy, Mrs. McCracken lived there for 51 years before moving to Princeton 38 years ago. She was a member of St. Paul's Church here.

Wife of the late Robert A. McCracken, she is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Eleanor M. and Robert A. Nelson with whom she resided, and Lucille M. and Anthony Carnevale of Princeton; a sister, Anna Sekits of Tarpon Springs, Fla.; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church with burial in Alpine Cemetery, Perth Amboy. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, PO Box 529, Princeton 08542, or to the Crisis Ministry, c/o Nassau Presbyterian Church, 61 Nassau Street, Princeton 08540.

UNITARIANS WON'T SELL THE FIRE ENGINE: But on Saturday, May 5, they'll sell many other things at the annual "Auction Plus..." to be held at the Unitarian Church on Cherry Hill Road. Kids who go to the auction can have their picture taken on Bart Hoebel's fire engine, even if their parents can't take it home. Joining co-heads Mary Lou and Dick Christian, left, are Jean Sinden, in charge of clothing, and Del and Pete Gerster, who will sell toys, games and sporting goods.

Auction Plus Readied At Unitarian Church

With a real, red and roaring fire-engine as its mascot, the 1990 "Auction Plus ..." of the Princeton Unitarian Church is ready for Saturday, May 5 (10 a.m. to 4 p.m.). As in past years, proceeds will go to social agencies in the Princeton area — last year's auction produced $10,000 for almost two dozen organizations.

Co-chairs Mary Lou and Dick Christian promise a wealth of treasures to be auctioned by Tony Tucker; books and records to be sold by Jane Szathmary and a boutique which will be managed by Sonia Shainheit.

Suzanne Gitomer will be in charge of entertaining children who attend and the Unitarian Men's Club, with Bill Barnard as director, will rovide food outdoors for kids and grown-ups. Indoors, food sales will he in charge of Nancy Keene.

Loulie Estil-O'Nan and Jacquie Johnson will handle crafts; Muriel and John Murphy are managing the flea market; Mary Kay Muckenhoupt and Gitte Sinding will sell plants and Del and Pete Gerster will sell toys, games and sports equipment.

Ruth Mazzarella is in charge of baked goods and Jean Sinde, of the clothing booth. Dan Getman has planned set-ups for the various booths, and Peter and Barbara Lumia nre receiving Auction Plus ... contributions.

On the administrative side, David Harper is in charge of clean-up; Tom Nied, finance; John Durden, pick-up of contributions and Lorraine Anderson, the Friday night supper for committee members. Bart Hoebel, who owns the mascot fire-engine, is facilities coordinator.

Panel Discussion Set On Resettlement Issues

The American Jewish Committee Central New Jersey Chapter will sponsor a panel discussion on the issue of "Soviet Jewry Resettlement in the United States" on Thursday, April 26, 7:30 p.m. at the Jewish Center.

The program is chaired by Iris Brener and Reba Orszag and is open to the public.

The program speakers are well versed in the background, issues, problems, and ramifications of the resettlement of the numerous Soviet Jews in this community and country. Judy Golub is the American Jewish Committee assistant Washington representative and the author of The Dilemmas of Rescue — Current Policy Issues in Soviet Jewry Migration to the United States.

Patricia Cipora Harte is director of the New York Association for New Americans Acculturation Department. She is responsible for creating programs that introduce newly arrived Jewish emigres to American and Jewish culture. Stanley Glick, assistant executive director, Jewish Family Services, is involved with the resettlement of Soviet Jews in the community.

The program will be moderated by Prof. Michael Walzer of the Institute for Advanced Study.

Parenting Issues Topic Of Nassau Church Series

Nassau Presbyterian Church has planned a series of five adult education sessions that will explore issues involved in parenting. The series of one-hour classes from 9:30 to 11:30 begins Sunday in the multi-purpose room in the basement of the church and runs through Sunday, May 20. Sessions will be led by members of the Trinity Counselling Center.

The first session on "The Basic Issues of Parenting Young Children: A New Stage in the Life Cycle," will be led by the Rev. Peter Stimpson, executive director of the Counseling Center. On Sunday, April 29, Melissa Bailey will discuss "The Valiant Attempt to Parent Teenagers."

The topics and the leaders for the next three Sundays are "Grandparenting: Some Myths and Realities," led by the Rev. Ronald Walthall; "Single Parenting: Gains and Losses," Sally Oppenheimer; and "Step Parenting: The Most Profound Lesson of Humility," with the Rev. Mr. Stimpson.

Holocaust Service Set By Clergy Association

The Princeton Clergy Association will sponsor the second annual community Yom HaShoah Service this Sunday at 3 at the Jewish Center.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Robert Everett, a United Church of Christ minister, historian and theologian from Union. His topic will be "Faith After the Holocaust." He will address issues such as how can Christians and Jews believe in God or in humanity after such brutality, what to believe and how to worship.

All are welcome.

Bulletin Notes

The North Jersey Philharmonic Glee Club will appear in concert on Sunday at 3 at the John Witherspoon School. The concert is being held in conjunction with the 150th Anniversary celebration of Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church.

This all male group has performed throughout New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the eastern United States. The concert repertoire is varied and includes gospel music, spirituals and anthems as well as songs from Africa and the Caribbean.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling the church office at 924-1666.

At a special coffee hour Sunday at 10:30, the Hopewell Presbyterian Church will honor Robert F. Green who has completed 49 years as the church's mission treasurer and is retiring this year.

Worship is at 9:30, and Sunday School begins at 10:45 for pre-school through high school. During adult education hour, the Rev. Phidolus Dhkar, a graduate student at Princeton Theological Seminary and the recipient of the church's international student scholarship, will tell about his church in northwest India.

Prof. Christiaan Beker will speak on "Paul and Suffering" at the Adult Education Forum at Christ Congregation on April 22 and 29. Prof. Bekman, professor of New Testament theology at Princeton Seminary, is a Pauline specialist. His most recent book in 1987 was Suffering and Hope: The Biblical Vision and the Human Predicament.

The Adult Education Hour begins about 11:15, following the 10 a.m. worship service. All are invited.

Montgomery United Methodist Church will hold its spring rummage sale on April 27 and 28. Friday the sale will be from 9 to 4, and on Saturday from 9 to 2. Clothing will be offered at $2 a bag all day on Saturday.

Contributions can be delivered Monday through Wednesday from 9 to 3, and from 7 to 9. Call 874-3273 for more information.

The combined choirs of the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church and the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in East Windsor will present a choral cantata twice on Sunday. The cantata will be presented during the 8:30 a.m. service in Prince of Peace and at the 11 a.m. service at St. Paul's.

Everyone is welcome. Prince of Peace also worships at 11 a.m. The Rev. Gregg Kaufman and the Rev. Margaret Payne are co-pastors.

At the congregational meeting last Sunday, the members overwhelmingly voted to begin the addition to the church — now scheduled to start in a few weeks.

Hopewell Presbyterian Church will hold its annual spring Runmage Sale Thursday through Saturday, April 26 through 28. The sale will feature clothing for men, women and children, linens, draperies, books, jewelry, toys and small appliances.

Sale hours are 9:30 to 6 on Thursday and Friday, and 9:30 to noon on Saturday. On Thursday, large items will be sold outside, weather permitting. On Saturday, everything will be $1 a bag.

Proceeds from this sale will support the Rev. John H. Ginter Memorial Scholarship and other mission causes. Hopewell Presbyterian Church is located at the corner of Broad and Louellen Streets in Hopewell Borough.

Hopewell United Methodist Church will hold its annual Spring Roast Beef and Ham Dinner on Saturday from 4 to 7. The menu will include roast beef with old-fashioned brown gravy, ham, mashed potatoes, seasonal vegetables, applesauce, salad, beverage, rolls and dessert. Takeouts will be available.

All are welcome. A love offering will be accepted.

The Women's Association of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church will hold their annual fashion show on Friday evening, May 4, instead of at noon. This year, the Association will serve home-made desserts, fruit and beverages at their show, "Fashion For Action." Another innovation will be an Art Show and Sale, courtesy of the Lexington Gallery of Lawrenceville.

The fashion show, with fashions by The Reynolds Shop of Pennington and Benetton of Lawrenceville, and the art sale will be held at 7 p.m. in the Youth Center of the Church. Tickets at $8 may be purchased by calling the church office at 896-1212.

Jeanne Aicher is moderator of the Women's Association. Lisa Huckel is in charge of the event, assisted by Ruth Conover, tickets; Reynolds Shop models, Lorraine Huchler; Benetton models, Meg Lloyd; desserts, Helen Kientz; kitchen, Colleen Arno; table settings, Grace Harris and Dolly Weber; music, Bev Nester; and publicity, Gloria Longhi.

When is a barn not a barn? When it has been transformed into a gracious home with elegant appointments while retaining the charm of its original character. This Dutch barn built in 1750 is the traditional barn — red with sparkling white trim and has its own outbuildings and pool with brick terrace and landscaping on 7½ acres of natural woodland with a picturesque rippling brook. The foyer opens to a spectacular living-dining room with a massive stone fireplace rising to the lofty ceiling and enhanced by the original beams of the barn. Adjoining is a cozy den. The brick-floored kitchen is modern and has a delightful breakfast area. Off the landing of the graceful stairway are a bedroom/study and an exercise room. On the upper level, the hall/sitting room opens to three family bedrooms, hall bath and the master bedroom with bath and separate stairway. A glamorous 2-story sun room with hot tub opens to a complete guest apartment on the lower level. This unique property offers pleasant family living and a retreat from the busy world in Montgomery just seven miles from Princeton. $630,000

ON A QUIET CUL-DE-SAC, A CONTEMPORARY THAT PARTAKES OF THE WOODS ITSELF IN ITS DESIGN. Inside the welcome foyer is a spiral staircase with a living room with fireplace and cathedral ceiling to the right and a den with fireplace to the left. The formal dining room has both a bank of china cabinets plus a summer veranda. And the eat-in-kitchen has lots of light, massive beams and a large greenhouse at the work area plus a central island. Still, there is a full family room with bath and a ground-floor bedroom for guests. Upstairs, is a spacious master suite with his and her studies plus a laundry room, as well, and yet two more bedrooms and a full bath. Cathedral ceilings abound in this gem with a sheer window wall on the woods which are left in the natural state. Space, quietness, beauty, and a fine communion with nature. $749,000

PRINCETON WESTERN SECTION — Contemporary Ranch featuring a sunken living room with fireplace, spacious eat-in kitchen, formal dining room. Has five bedrooms and 3 baths in all. Backs up to a farm where deer often graze. Needs some work but has real potential in this location. $389,000

A CUSTOM HOME IN THE PRINCETON WOODS with pretty rock walls and boulders strewn all about. It has a certain Scandinavian charm with simple clear lines in the rooms, wooded accents, and even rock textures here and there. The living room has a vaulted ceiling and stone fireplace. There's a warm Florida room overlooking the woods, a wonderful basement area, and a skylighted loft with built-ins. Come stop by woods with your Firestone agent. $329,000

A HOME, A POOL, A MERCEDES AT 307 OAK LANE, WEST WINDSOR TOWNSHIP. And more... Beautiful 4 bedroom ranch in move-in condition on 1.1 acre lot with open space in back. 18x37 Florida room overlooking an inground pool and cabana. A modern kitchen open to the family room with fireplace and a completely finished lower level with wet bar and fireplace. Included in the price... a 380 SE Mercedes-Benz in mint condition! All for $286,000

WHAT'S THE BEST LOCATION IN PRINCETON — Walk to the pool, tennis, schools, playing fields, town and the hospital. This 3 bedroom ranch is a real surprise with cathedral ceiling new kitchen, living room with built-in bookcases, and nicely carpeted and well taken care of. Lovely yard and neighbors. $189,000

HIGH ON A WINDY HILL OVERLOOKING PRINCETON FROM THE SOURLAND MOUNTAIN IS A BUILDER'S OWN DREAM HOUSE. On a 23 acre parcel with its own road, this site is magnificent. There's potential for several large lots plus a spacious brick-front home that's very special. Custom features abound, including select parquet floors, a sensational kitchen, a whole master suite on the ground floor, elegant foyer and living room, family room with fireplace, sun room with fireplace, in-home office and even a beautiful in-ground pool overlooking the mountains. Wonderful barn-like outbuilding with four bay garage. Exceptional, exciting, and ready to be seen. $1,100,000

PRINCETON BOROUGH slate roof colonial in beautiful shape. Center hall style, living room with fireplace, sun room or study, formal dining room and decorator's kitchen. Upstairs are 3 bedrooms and 2 full baths including a master suite. Add to this a full basement, a three car garage and just 4 blocks from downtown. Call today! $395,000

A WEST WINDSOR CONTEMPORARY, BEAUTIFULLY MAINTAINED, SPACIOUS (THE EXPANDED BERMUDA MODEL), AND JUST A SHORT WALK FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL. It features a ceramic tile foyer leading to an outstanding living room-dining room and family room with fireplace, with cathedral ceiling, skylights and trac lighting. Also, there's a study and full bath for guests on the first floor. Upstairs are four bedrooms and 2 full baths including a spacious master suite. Lots of extras, plus a great interior location. Buy the best. $390,000

A PRINCETON DUPLEX WORTH SEEING. Close to everything in town. One side has four bedrooms, the other two. Needs some work, but it's worth restoring and has lots of potential. Call today! $275,000

THIS NEWLY EXPANDED 3 BEDROOM, 2 BATH PRINCETON CAPE features a recently renovated interior, including the modern kitchen, slate floored family room with bay, and an intercsting living room-dining room combination with fireplace and built-in bookcases. There are new windows and roof, refinished hardwood floors, and lots of closet space and storage. Add to this a beautiful enclosed back yard, an attached 2-car garage and a full basement, and you have a lot of pluses. All on a quiet tree-lined street just a short walk to schools and shopping and in excellent condition. $235,000

A CUSTOM 3 BEDROOM PRINCETON CAPE COD featuring a living room with fireplace, upstairs bedroom with fireplace, a ground-floor master suite and warm, personal human scaled rooms that are charming. Situated on a mature lot, just a few minutes from community facilities, schools and shopping. Built by an architect for himself, and now for you.

ELEGANT 2ND FLOOR CONDO IN WHISPERING WOODS, 10 minutes north of Princeton in S. Brunswick. This superbly maintained condo offers a view of the tennis courts and a swimming pool. This two bedroom, two baths is most affordable. $124,500

PRINCETON HORIZONS, KINGSTON, two bedroom condominium, 1½ baths, backs up to the woods. $105,000

Queenston — the historic area which, like Princeton, was named for English royalty, is the site of this charming home. Built by Charles Steadman about 1830, it is an outstanding example of his stately Colonials which are now a cherished Princeton tradition. The white picket fence, brick walks and soft yellow exterior promise a delightful interior which is more than fulfilled. The hall opens to a gracious living room with 12 ft. ceilings, step-down library with fireplace with picturesque tiles, large formal dining room with fireplace, sunny glass-walled breakfast room, butler's pantry with copper sink, new modern kitchen and powder room. On second floor, three bedrooms, 2 baths and a charming step-down bedroom. On third floor — a complete apartment. In all — a rare opportunity to own one of Princeton's most admired homes. $675,000

Once called "Bramblewood" this handsome old Colonial proudly proclaims its 19th century heritage. On ten beautiful acres and with modern amenities added, it is a warm wonderful home. The long driveway is shaded by mature trees and a majestic maple guards the entrance to the house. The front hall opens to a gracious parlor with windowed alcove, fireplace and beamed ceiling. The dining room is spacious and opens to a screened porch which invites summer dining. A second parlor, playroom/bedroom and half bath complete the first floor. On second floor, a dramatic master bedroom and bath with skylights and a windowed area for plants. Three other bedrooms and a bath offer generous space for family or guests. High ceilings, wide floor boards and bull's eye moldings add to the charm of this special house in Princeton Township. $675,000
